Then pay close attention to "other" Wells (Fargo names) Like Wells REIT II and Wells Capital. These two are the names of what Home owners are lead to believe is Wells Fargo the BANK, but in fact are these other separate branches. Those of which the attorneys are actually representing and NOT the actual BANK. SO Defending Homeowners are not addressing the real party of interest....so they haven't a valid argument and therefore lose, because they haven't really Identified qualified and verified the REAL "WELLS". It's typical for most foreclosure cases IMO.
