

International Public Notice: It Is Already Done

By Anna Von Reitz

A couple months ago the International Court of Justice told Donald Trump that he and Britain had no standing to address issues of land and soil ownership in The United States.

He and the legless U.S. Military didn't appear to grasp what that means or understand why that is true.

But if you have been listening at all, you do.

Remember what happened to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines?

It was nationalized.

Remember the 950 military bases we have had to pay for worldwide?

Well, all the other countries are nationalizing them, and there isn't anything that can be done about it, because the military under Donald Trump has refused to come home and legitimize itself and its own contracts.

All the countries in Africa have already done this and it won't take long before every country on Earth does the same.

950 foreign military bases and all the tech and personnel with them.

What are they going to do about it?

Destroy the bases as they are leaving? Bombard everyone from outer space?
Blow everything up in a giant Pity Potty event?

They did this to themselves.

We offered them amnesty and a way to preserve their standing, but no. They were too arrogant and prideful. They wouldn't listen to the people they are supposed to work for.

But it so happens that we own everything. We own the physical assets of this country and we own the credit derived from those assets. They don't. They are just employees under contract to protect us.

Rothschild and Rockefeller were giving them access to our assets illegally.

So now that is coming to an end, too.

We approve of Trump's efforts to seal the borders and stop the crime. That is logically Job Obe the military can do and get paid for doing. God knows we have plenty of work for them to do.

But they have to pull in their horns and face facts.

The False Claims and racketeering against Americans has got to stop and they have to turn over the courts and administration to the actual government — because otherwise they are nothing but a giant commercial corporation ripe for the picking.

All the Central Banks? Gone. Under new management.

The Swift System? Gone. Replaced. And not by Trump's QFS. Our version of QFS.

The stock market? Rigged and overvalued and.... Gone.

It's sad to watch this incredible devolution, but it's right, too.

"Great Britain" grossly abused us and everyone else and never had any right or standing to do so.

Now the game is over.

Trump and Whitehall will somehow try to turn this into a great victory and take credit for it, but the truth of the matter is something quite different.

They never had standing to do what they've done, not in England, not here, and not anywhere else.

The British Empire which everyone thought was dead and gone is now truly in its death throes and all the coercive power and purloined wealth and investment in overwhelming military power will not avail them.

What does this mean for Americans? We are back home. At peace. With our own business to attend to and our own land and money and everything else intact.

We will no longer be bled dry and used like a sock puppet by ugly corrupt insane European dynasties and their cronies in business and finance.

It's a new world and it can be a good world.
Make it so.
