

International Public Notice: Pay Attention to Words and Circumstances

By Anna Von Reitz

When someone says "citizen" you should immediately think "public servants " or "government employees" or "government dependents (welfare recipients or asylum seekers).

When someone says "dual citizen" you should think, oh, the poor schmuck has to serve two governments, not just one!

When someone says, "district" anything, think "District of Columbia" and realize that they are talking about foreign "Federal Districts"; for example, school districts, assembly districts, voting districts, judicial districts, etc. --- these are all federal, not local, not your State.

When you hear "policy" or "political" -- think corporation. Only corporations have policies and only corporations indulge in politics. These words are more or less open admissions that "political elections" are private corporate elections, that "political parties" are private corporate lobbies, and that "laws" presented as "public policies" are not laws, and are only applicable to the corporation officers and personnel adopting those policies.

When you hear "license" --- ask yourself what you are doing that is illegal? Since when did getting married become illegal? For whom? Why? Same questions apply to licensing of doctors and lawyers, nurses and cosmetologists, and an array of other "occupations of common right".

When someone says, "state" --- ask, which one? The actual, factual State or a Confederate State of State? A Union State or a State of the Union or a Territorial State or a Municipal State.... or?

When someone says "United States" -- ask which one? These United States? Or those United States? Or the name of this country maybe, The United States?

When someone is called a "judge" and another person doing apparently the same thing is called a "justice" -- ask yourself, why are they called by different titles?

When you buy a car and it has a "Vehicle Identification Number" look up the meaning of the word "vehicle" and ask yourself who arbitrarily redefined your private automobile as a commercial "vehicle"? And why? (Hint: it's so they can establish a phony "probable cause" to think you are engaged in driving a commercial vehicle engaged in interstate commerce and subject you to their regulations, taxes, and fees.)

When someone tells you that you have to "register" anything, realize that you are giving up your ownership interest in whatever you are registering to whatever organization you are registering it with. If you want to record your own ownership interest in property, record it, never register it.

If you have registered anything in the past, record over it.

If anyone sends you mail including summons or bills or correspondence addressed to your name in all capital letters, realize that there are only two legal entities that have names styled in all capital letters: dead man's estates and corporations. Are you dead? Are you running a corporation under your own name? If not, what the $#!@! is going on here?

Look at how business mail is addressed to you. Look at the name on the envelope or page very, very carefully. Is that really your name or just something similar to it? For example, if your name is Joseph Maxwell Ponzi, is the mail addressed to JOSEPH M PONZI?

Notice that JOSEPH M PONZI is either a corporation or a dead man's estate, so it can't be you, right? Notice the JOSEPH M PONZI could stand for JOSEPH MICHAEL PONZI, JOSEPH MERTON PONZI, JOSEPH MILTON PONZI,

JOSEPH MORTON PONZI.... and notice, that the "M" that appears to be an initial isn't really an initial.

It's just an "M" in hyperspace. Who -- or what -- do these people think they are addressing, anyway? The name on that paperwork is "void for vagueness".

Don't be a Mark. Don't assume anything. Don't let anyone assume anything about you, either.

The State of State has claimed an ownership interest in your car by misidentifying it as a "vehicle" and by assigning a Vehicle Identification Number to it and by coercing you to register it. This is a form of theft and racketeering and extortion. It unlawfully converts your private property into "public property" belonging to a corporation in the business of providing government services. So why, exactly, are you required to buy private insurance for their "vehicle"?

If you aren't using your car for "commercial" purposes, why are you "required" to register it and give up an ownership interest in it? Says who? Why? It's time all of these State-of-State Legislators answered these questions--- for you and the County Cops, State Troopers, and Highway Patrolmen in America.

Why aren't you all reporting this crime to the Department of Public Safety, filing criminal complaints against the State of State Legislature, and massing by the millions to denounce it?

Don't stand around waiting for a patrol officer to stop you. Bring it to them. Straight up their noses on all of these accounts.

And yes, DO sniff all gift fish from Uncle Sam.

People all over this country have lost homes and property to various kinds of disasters -- fires, floods, wind storms, chemical spills -- you name it, we've suffered it. What always happens afterward?

Your land, which has been improperly included in a foreign "State" Trust has been damaged, and so have you. It is the Trustee's responsibility to make you and your land whole. Instead, what happens?

Some dork from FEMA comes around, looks at the damage, takes down your name and address and lo, and behold, a few weeks later you get an unsolicited check from Uncle Sam.

This check doesn't have anything written on it telling you what it is for. There is no reason for the amount, either. It's just a check-out-of-nowhere. And because you are down and out and just suffered a major loss and are desperate, 99% of disaster victims cash this "windfall" from Uncle Sam and are grateful for it, even if they are confused.

This past year many people in North Carolina lost everything they had in this world because of Hurricane Helene. The Biden Administration sent them all checks for $750 so that the same Rotten Administration could claim that they all settled their claims against the State Trust and the US Corporation for this amount.

Really? You settled a damage claim for your house and land worth maybe $250,000 or $500,000 --- for $750? And you never even knew you had a claim or what it was worth?

They are getting ready to pull a similar stunt with Social Security Recipients. Your money has been stolen. There is no Social Security Trust Fund anymore. Hasn't been for decades. Congress gobbled that up and threw it into the General Fund eons ago without advertising that fact.

As soon as they got everyone roped into it by demanding that you sign up for a Social Security account, they changed the rules and stole the money you thought you were putting away for your Golden Years.

If you are retired, these criminals have already spent your money.

They are robbing young kids today so that they can pay you back what they owe to you already.

Can anyone say, "Ponzi Scheme"? Social Security is a Real Deal Ponzi Scheme.

Social Security roped Americans into paying for Federal Pension "benefits" under False Pretenses, when these same Americans are not Federal Employees and not needing Federal Benefits. And then the "honorable" members of Congress redefined everything so that there are no "pension benefits" only welfare benefits, and the victims of these con artists are all considered to be "paupers" on the public dole --- paupers who paid for all of it.

The "honorable" members of Congress who did this need to be dragged out into the public squares of America and horse whipped for Breach of Trust, Racketeering, and Money Laundering.

And we can say that, because they are not public officials. They are elected, but they are elected as officers of a private foreign-owned corporation. They have no state immunity. And are owed no special respect.

Donald Trump's Administration has begun to scratch the surface of the fraud that is "Social Security" and is proposing to send every Senior a $5000 make-up check from money recouped. But what if you are owed $200,000 and it's just another cheap-cheap-cheap offer to settle your claim against the charlatans?

This goes way beyond Buyer Beware.

The example of the recent "pandemic" proves that we cannot and must not trust "the government service providers" any further than we can throw them. It also proves that we must organize in great numbers and get our own history straight.

The "honorable" members of Congress stood by straight-faced and let millions of innocent Americans be injected with "experimental" poisons while exempting themselves, their families, and even their staff members and the families of their staff members from having to take the shots.

They knew.

And they went along.

They betrayed their so-called "constituents", this country and everyone in it for nothing but filthy lucre. Profit. Someone paid their "service" corporation to do it, so they did.

It's time to find out who the Money Bags was who paid for the pandemic.

It's time to follow THAT money and squash the bug at the end of the trail --- flat.

Please consider this a Public Service Warning -- heads up and in your face.
Trump's Administration is better than Biden's but they both went rompy-pompy on the pandemic genocide, and Trump is turning a blind eye to the genocide in Gaza and giving away billions of our credit to Israel --- all of which suggests that Israel paid the U.S.A. Corp to defend it.

Why not? It's a Mercenary Force. They have an obligation to us, the People responsible for their contract and its creation, but as British Territorials, they figure they can take on other contracts, too.

And leave us with the bill.

This is why we have objected, strongly, to the Monroe Doctrine and all the False Presumptions available under it.

Americans, wake up. We've been raped in our sleep.
