

International Public Notice: The Strange History of the Barons Drumpf

By Anna Von Reitz

Trump, like Belcher, has been "Anglicized" by the British-speakers, who have changed the Dutch name "Drumpf" to Trump and the French name/description "Belle Cher" into the far more prosaic Belcher.

Donald John Trump, said to be born in New York, is a scion of the Dutch East India Company that found refuge in New York after the Bottomry Bonds Insurance Scandal provided us with one of history's biggest and most flamboyant insurance frauds.

Non-existent ships and their cargo were sunk at sea, with the good ships, crews, and cargos lost; in the twinkling of an eye, the largest commercial fleet in history with the largest cargo tonnage, vanished, leaving the insurance beneficiaries of the Bottomry Bonds on the "lost" vessels' cargos, to collect their due while the Dutch Merchantmen were scuttled at sea or reflagged as British vessels and beat, either for the far Southern Latitudes or New York Harbor.

In this manner, the Dutch East India Company "mysteriously"--- or not so mysteriously --- passed into history, just like the Templars, and the infamously enlarged British East India Company rose up as the pre-eminent trading company of the age. The Baron Drumpfs were there witnessing --- and perhaps benefiting from this, just as our relatives in Hamburg and Munich were taking it in the shorts.

To briefly reprise, one of Trump's ancestral relatives, Martin Drumpf, a Baron in the Dutch Royal Hierarchy and also a celebrated Admiral in the Dutch Navy, provided cover for the audacious disappearance of the entire (and heavily insured)

Dutch East India Company commercial fleet. There can be little doubt that he was one of the men who knew all about the plan to stick the British and German Underwriters of the Bottomry Bonds insuring the Dutch Merchant Fleet. There is also some evidence that Admiral Drumpf subsequently left Le Havre for New York, and may have shared in the spoils of the scam.

Be that as it may or may not have transpired, there are many other anecdotes and whimsies about the House of Drumpf.

According to the State of New York Vital Records, Donald John Trump was born within the physical borders of New York, and is therefore fully and lawfully eligible to serve as President of The United States.

According to other international records, Donald John Trump was born in Bavaria, which would render him ineligible to serve as President of The United States. Unless, of course, his parents were both Americans, in which he could claim his nationality from either one--- but it would still be a question with respect to the eligibility requirements, which seem to require being born in one of the States.

Like Barack Obama who may have been born in Nairobi or in Hawaii, either option raises questions; especially his "official" birthplace in Hawaii --- which was a Territorial State until 2020.

According to the physical evidence of his form, face, and voice, Donald John Trump is very much alive and as energetic as ever; according to records at Gitmo, he was hanged for his willing participation in Operation Warp Speed and the Pandemic Genocide.

In recent days, increasingly unconvincing Body Doubles playing the part of Donald John Trump have appeared like sprouting mushrooms; some of them don't even look that much like him, have different ears, and other anomalous features that are unconvincingly like the Orange Man.

Even the odd nickname which hearkens back to The House of Orange and the beginning of this segment of the Great Fraud in the Western World resonates oddly, like Malachi's dream of the white dragon fighting the red dragon, being reprised by Vortigern's dream of the white dragon fighting the red dragon in Arthurian Legend.

According to the latest purported reports from Gitmo, Judge Juan Merchan has been executed for treason and various and sundry other crimes and offenses, which is strange, since we thought we spoke to him just the other day and explained that the corporation he worked for is no more, so he can no longer operate a corporate tribunal.... but who knows?

Just as it was in the days of Edgar Allen Poe, "Don't believe anything you hear and only half of what you see." --- and realize that may be an optimistic "half", especially with the CGI technology now available.

Not meaning to add to the crazy world of suppositions, rumors, and psyops, please note that there have been many "Brunson cases" and many questions raised by these prolific brothers, and yes, the question of election interference is decided in their favor.

But, like so many such decisions, it does not matter---- because?

Because the "election" itself is a fraud.

It's a private corporation's election, decided by unelected shareholder Electors (Proxies), so the entire political election popularity poll is moot. There is no law against tampering with a private popularity poll. The whole issue of true Election Fraud is rendered pointless because we are not engaged in an actual Public Election process for the actual American Presidential Office.

Please Note: there hasn't been a Public Election for any American President to sit in any American Public Office, ever.

Every single "President of the United States" elected from George Washington to Abraham Lincoln was either a Bar Attorney or a soldier; every single one of them were foreign U.S. Citizens; and from 1819 onward, they were all prohibited from serving in any office of the American Federal Republic by the ratified (Virginia, 1819) Titles of Nobility Amendment added to The Constitution for the united States of America.

So, not only haven't there been Public Elections for The President of The United States of America (our Federation President), there haven't been Public Elections for any Federal Republic President since the Titles of Nobility Amendment went into effect in 1819.

Absolutely all of these men were foreign British Territorial U.S. Citizens. All of them were prohibited from holding any public office in our government as of 1819. It follows that they were all holding private corporate offices in their foreign capacity as British Commonwealth U.S. Citizens, as if they were born in Puerto Rico.

The switching back and forth from military officers to Bar Attorneys must have deceived the American Public and kept them from noticing this disturbing circumstance, in which the men always holding the supreme power in our Federal Government, weren't operating as Americans and weren't inhabiting American Public Offices.

Instead, they were British Territorial U.S. Citizens acting as "Presidents" of the District of Columbia Corporation doing business as "the United States, Inc."

Please note that if these men had ever served in an American Public Office as an American President of this country, the offices they would have served are:

The President of The United States of America --- the unincorporated Federation of States President.

The President of The United States -- the Union States President holding the unincorporated National Office.

The President of the States of America --- the American Confederation President.

The President of the united States of America -- the President of the American Federal Republic.

Instead, these foreign U.S. Citizens have occupied the following two private foreign offices throughout:

- (1) the President of the United States (Inc.)
- (2) the President of the United States of America (Inc.).

Since 1790, the Office of the President of the United States has been a CEO office attached to the Municipal United States Government, and since 1871, it has been "the Office of the President of the United States, Incorporated" though they have conveniently failed to add "Incorporated" to the name of the corporation or the associated office. This is the entity operating under "The Constitution of the United States" and is one of the Federal Subcontractors. In its most recent iteration, the UNITED STATES, entered Chapter 7 Bankruptcy and is now officially defunct.

So there presently is no "President of the United States (Inc.)" and everything Joe Biden is doing is pure spiteful fraud.

Also, there is no office of "President of the United States (Inc.)" for Donald Trump to fill on January 20th, even if he is alive.

Since 1789, the Office of the President of the United States of America has been that of a British Territorial CEO working for the same British Territorial Company referenced throughout the Treaty of Paris (1783); this entity incorporated as a British Crown Corporation and became "the United States of America, Incorporated" around 1810. Again, no effort was made to add the word "Incorporated" to the name of this foreign business nor to the CEO office associated with it, which promoted an easy confusion with and substitution of this private British Territorial Office for the American unincorporated Public Office of The President of The United States of America.

We have corresponded with President-Elect Trump's transition team to no avail, seeking answers to some basic questions like -- is Donald Trump still alive? If so, was he born in Bavaria? Was at least one parent American? Is the United States of America, Incorporated, still viable? (Last we heard, it was in Chapter 11.) And if so, is it claiming to be a Successor to The Constitution of the United States of America service contract? Yes or no?

We have also attempted to point out the relatively impossible situation that Mr. Trump is in and offer some solutions.

If Donald John Trump is alive, if he was born in New York, he could possibly serve as The President of The United States of America, our Federation of States, pending actual Public Elections and State Assembly approval.

He could also possibly serve as the President of the united States of America, again, on a pro-tem basis pending new elections, based on Federation oversight and State Assemblies in agreement. This would be a transparent contractual relationship and not an accommodation allowing the Brits to occupy our American Federal Republic.

This latter arrangement might be amenable, considering his past economic track record and the overall jurisdictional complementarity between the operations of the old Federal Republic Subcontractor and the British Territorial Subcontractor's recent operations.

In any case, we are determined that from now on, we will have Americans operating in American Public Offices, freely elected by the American people in Public Elections with no more sleights of hand, no more similar names deceits, nor more substitutions, and no more fraud upon the American Public.

It must be heart-breaking and frustrating for Mr. Trump to have gone through all that he has gone through, to "win" and find that "the United States" corporation is defunct, its assets and debts have been claimed by Americans who haven't abandoned anything, and well, from the British Territorial perspective, everything is going South in a big way.

Nonetheless, we can make this country great again and open a whole new (and better) chapter of history for everyone. That is our clear mission and intent --- and there is more than enough work to go around.
