

International Public Notice: Ben, Ben, Ben.....

By Anna Von Reitz

We wondered who would be first out of the box to tell lies about Neil Keenan after his death. We are saddened, but not surprised it was you, Ben Fulford.

Neil was never CIA in charge of Europe. You know that. Why say it?

Neil Keenan was involved in the incident back in 2011 when two Japanese financial gang members were arrested for trying to peddle gold bonds from the Avila Family Trust that the Chinese claimed were theirs.

The big question is: how did either the Chinese or the Japanese wind up with Gold Bonds belonging to the Avila (not Sta Romano) Family Trust?

Those bonds should have been safely kept in the Philippines.

Neil was working the situation as a Bank Agent, not a CIA Agent.

The answer to the foregoing question is that the Gold Bonds actually belonging to the Avila Family Trust had been stolen by the CIA and made part of the CIA's China Development Fund, one of the biggest financial and money-laundering operations in world history.

That's how they magically got from the Philippines to the Chinese.

Now, how did they get from the China Development Fund to two Japanese Bag Men? There again, the answer is: CIA. The Chinese certainly didn't give those bonds away and nobody else had access to them. Simple process of deduction.

Neil tried to get to the bottom of it -- who was funding Japanese gangs using "China Development Fund" assets stolen originally from the Avila Family Trust?

It's much more complex than you seem to know-- and more damning, because the China Development Fund, like USAID -- was supposed to be a Foreign Aid and economic development fund, which was instead used as an NGO to launder money and promote theft and every kind of black ops action in the entire Pacific.

If the CIA had a hand in pockets that had a direct line to the Avila Trust Assets, clearly, the world as a whole was in trouble. Big trouble.

The most likely answer is that officials in the Philippines were corrupted by CIA Influencers and allowed the CIA access to private American wealth funds cashiered in the Philippines by Severino Sta Romano, and which were "accidentally on purpose" presumed to be part of Severino Sta Romano's personal Estate upon this death.

Read that: Severino was a professional bag man, not a wannabe like the two Japanese caught with Gold Bonds that the Chinese claimed to own, but which came originally from the Avila Trust.

Severino moved gold and silver and all the certificates and bonds related to precious metals assets and other physical assets for a living. He was a pro hired by the Vatican working on behalf of the Avila Family Trust --- a Spanish Catholic Family --- and the Global Federal Reserve, to move some of the Trust assets to each of the Central Banks prior to and after WWII.

The original intent of the Avila Family was to pay for all government services in the countries that had central banks, so that the people would be relieved of tax burdens. Then WWII intervened. The funds were "repurposed" under the Marshal Plan and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and World Bank to rebuild infrastructure and industries shattered in the war.

The governments and central banks assisted by this long-term low interest loan of Avila Family Trust assets were supposed to gradually pay back the loans over the course of fifty years.

When the date for repayment came, the governments and associated central banks asked for an extension of another ten years, and the Avila Family agreed. The date to pay up or renegotiate terms came in the fall of 2005 -- the inheritors of the Avila Family showed up, but the Global Federal Reserve did not.

The central banks had launched a new narrative about the loan money and claimed that they didn't know who all this gold belonged to. Apparently, it just kinda-sorta-showed up in their coffers and the records about where it came from were either lost or the identity of the owners was unclear..... and all this happened during the ten (10) year loan extension from 1995-2005.

Everyone had been crystal clear about the details and ownership interests prior to that. The actual Trust inheritors remained clear about it.

So what happened during the ten year loan extension?

Corruption, thievery, international intrigue, "intelligence agency failure", complicity by the DOD, use of NGO's in China and elsewhere to embezzle, siphon, and launder money--- but most of all, the Administration of George W. Bush. The same Administration complicit in the Brady Bonds scandal and the World Trade Center disaster.

THAT was what Neil Keenan was tracking and dealing with.

He was also trying to sort out the Nationalist Chinese Gold that was legitimately owed back to the current Chinese Government by the New York Fed, from the Gold Bonds originating with the Avila Trust-- and make a determination about how those bonds were released at all --- by who, why, where, and under whose authority?

All trails led back to the CIA's China Development Fund and the U.S. Military's Five Star Trust.

We are standing at a crux point in history, when the theft of the Avila Trust gold by the Central Banks will be "discovered". It's only news to the General Public.

The Central Bankers and the Military-Industrial interests that assisted them in this grotesque crime will pay for it. Literally.

Neil Keenan was a good man and no fool. He survived many attempts to kill him, by friend and foe alike. Now that he is gone -- if he is gone -- there will be new narratives spun, making use of his inability to reply to whatever lies are told about him.

Why would Mr. Trump want to accept an offer from the Chinese to loan him American money? The actual inheritor of the Avila Family Trust is an American.

Just as the New York Federal Reserve was compelled to return actual gold deposits left with them by the Chinese Nationalist Government in 1928 through Neil's efforts, the rest of the gold that all the central banks owe to the people and the lawful governments will be returned.

The Era of the Big Lie is at an end. The mismanagement and misdirection of our military is at an end. The theft of our money is at an end. And the theft of our credit is at an end, too.

This would be a good time to choose wisely about which side you are on, and to realize that the Canadian Government has been sideways and complicit --- and on the take --- for a long time. Some elements of the Japanese Government have been complicit, too.

And yes, some elements of the U.S. Government have been the ringleaders of it all. We know. And now, you do, too.
