

Closure Plus Biophotonic Biology

By Anna Von Reitz

A couple days ago, I gave you an Article that explained why I have worked so long and so hard to research the evil in our midst and make you aware of it --- and that is to expose evil, so that we can all recognize it and close the door on it --- and get it out of our lives.

It's simple enough.

One you can see the problem, you can solve the problem.

The more aware of the problem you are, and the more detail you have to describe it, the better. I have given you and the Vatican Chancery Court more than 400 pages of detail, describing multiple main schemes that have been used to defraud entire nations.

I have given you the 20/20 view of evil, how it works, how it has been applied, and its results; the illegality, unlawfulness, and immorality are all on display for anyone who reads the Vatican Court papers.

This is key. This gives you the target-in-view. You see the problem and can dismiss it, put it in the dustbin of history, close the lid of the box, and move on.

Biophotonic biology provides another key.

We didn't have to go to court to resolve this situation.

We took it to the court for a number of good reasons--- to consolidate the information, to create and publish a public record, to give the court and the Pope a chance to do their jobs, and so on.

But, thanks to our knowledge of biophotonic biology developed over the past thirty years, we now know who we are and how things, both good and bad, manifest in our world.

We are Children of God, Creators, and we are not limited in what we create. If we want a clean, peaceful, happy world --- we can have it, and not in some distant future after years of struggle and strife, court battles, wars, and mayhem.

We can have it now. As soon as we build up the threshold energy to make the change, it happens. Like magic, but it isn't magic. It's Nature, as designed by our Creator.

Imagine a world in which all the sick people, also meaning people who are emotionally and mentally sick---- are restored to full health and function.

Just sit there in your living room and imagine all the people you know who are sick, suffering with cancer, suffering with diabetes, suffering with arthritis, with heart disease, with depression, with delusions, with addictions, and on and on --- imagine the veterans who have lost limbs and feeling --- all healed.

Feel your health. Feel health for them, too.

There is no need to answer how or why, just concentrate and give your attention to the experience and feeling of health. See the results in your mind's eye, waking up without pain, leaving depression and misery behind, and feel the health and life running through everyone again.

Just sit there in your living room and imagine it.

Imagine a world that is clean and pristine, with flowing abundant healing waters that are pure and radiant, with air so clean and oxygenated that every breath is delightful, with soil that is rich and full of life, and all of it bathed in peace.

Imagine it.

Imagine yourself, completely healthy and restored and revitalized and youthful. Hold that picture in your mind for five, ten, however many seconds you can --- hold that in your mind. You can tell your body to heal, so do so.

Imagine everyone at peace, happy, laughing, open and untroubled.

Imagine everyone free to know and tell the truth, and choosing this pathway instead of gossip and lies.

Stop feeling threatened, because you hold the power. Each one of us.

Just find a comfortable place and imagine things the way you want them to be, and then go on. Stop and take a break and later, return to it. Imagine all these things until you can taste the sweet oranges and see the loving eyes looking back at you, the smiling faces, the joy.

Ask to be shown even more glorious things, things that you don't even know enough to desire. Imagine those as being already present.

And if you are still scratching your head, watch this short video -- less than a couple minutes. Watch it as many times as necessary to wrap your head around it:

https://youtube.com/shorts/8_iSPjx3-Ks?feature=share

See this article and over 4200 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the Donate button on this website.