

Black Magic v. White Magic

By Anna Von Reitz

I don't know anything much about magic. It never greatly interested me. Perhaps that is because I learned various magic tricks as a child and found that they were based on deception and distraction and other distortions of perception, and I wasn't attracted to phony-baloney even as a kid.

However, just in the course of living life and bumping around the world, if you are at all curious, you learn things about magic. Who hasn't heard of a voo-doo doll, simply from watching old movies? Who doesn't have a superstitious Italian or Polish Grandma somewhere in their acquaintance, throwing salt over her shoulder and warding off "the Evil Eye". Or, as in my case, an Herbalist or ten in the family lineage, steeped in the lore of plants?

Magic of all kinds exists all around us, including the "magic" of miracles, all the things that you can't explain, the money that arrives just when you need it, the friend who happens to tell you exactly what you need to know, the mysterious little old man who got in your way and slowed you down just enough so that you avoided a terrible car wreck....

How about the time that I slipped on the stairs, turned a full 270 degrees head over heels in the air, and landed twelve feet away on a chair that shouldn't have been there ---- totally unharmed? I must admit that I have always been sensitive to energy, able to perceive things that others around me don't see, and able to just naturally do things that are--- well, at times, a bit surreal.

So, I know enough about magic to recognize it when the rotten corporations posing as governments use "poppets" --- the European version of voo-doo dolls -- in the form of Legal Fiction Persons used to impersonate us. It's black magic, and it's "black" because it is done in secret and it is done to control you against your free will.

It was with this observation in mind that I went poking around researching the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, the Grandmother of the modern Occultist Movement--- and imagine my shock when I found this posted online by David Griffin, claiming to be the head of the Alpha et Omega branch (and now tree) of the original Order: <https://www.golden-dawn.com/eu/index.html>

His presentation is, well, unsettling. Being slapped in the face with a halibut comes to mind. Here is his opening salvo:

"No one thought it was possible.

A virus that lives in your subconscious mind...

Infecting first your thoughts, your emotions and then your entire energy body. Forcing you to self-destruct morally, socially, sexually and spiritually each and every each day...

While slowly making you a prisoner of your own life, enslaving you from the moment you wake up to the second your head hits the pillow at night. Recently declassified C.I.A. documents confirm this is real."

He then details the historical development of mind control and mass hypnosis, subliminal messaging, and mind-bending in the weaponized environment of the Cold War, which, as he points out, we should recognize as a Spiritual War, because it all hinges on beliefs and energy--- and what he describes as a deliberately created "Mind Virus" that destroys and enslaves people from the inside out, delivered via mass media and television.

Black magic, again.

All this stuff we've been hearing about --- child sacrifices, sex slaves, perversions, torture, adrenochrome --- is black magic. It can't stand the light of day.

Much of what he discusses I already knew about (though I was surprised to find Ronald Reagan and Bill Clinton working hand-in-glove to promote monopolization of the communications industry and the destruction of the Public Trustee role of the FCC), but Griffin added in his own bits and pieces from his viewpoint as a professional magician --- someone well-qualified to recognize occult practices.

I sat there, a bit stunned, but thinking---who would be better able to recognize this for what it is, than a magician?

The Bible warns against any dabbling in "sorcery" and "soothsaying" and with good reason. Ignorant people can get in a lot of trouble "calling" demons and trying to summon and talk to the dead.

While we are here in our 3-D form, we are not consciously aware of all the other channels --- just like radio or television channels --- that are separated from us by a few clicks of frequency and bandwidth, and we don't know the Good Guys from the Bad Guys in the unseen world, much less how to stay safe if we do come into contact. I've always considered the Bible a source of excellent advice on this subject and still do.

However, coming from a long, long line of Green Witches --- pharmacists before there were pharmacists --- I also know that we can simply ask and receive the help and information we need. I know that we are not alone, and if our intentions are good and our motives are pure--- and we call on safe sources--- there is nothing to fear for all the reasons Yeshuah outlined for us.

David Griffin has taken the initiative in the battle by proposing to train White Magicians to do battle with the Black Magic practitioners --- another jaw-dropping but logical idea.

He is opening the door to those who wish to learn White Magic --- which begins with teaching people to defend themselves from evil forces and manipulators, using time-tested techniques to retrain the subconscious mind and overcome indoctrination.

I obviously haven't taken this training, but as I was reading and looking at the books listed I realized this is what my Grandmother taught me as a child and what Jim's Grandmother taught him --- and that training, delivered while doing such unlikely pursuits as peeling apples, is probably the reason that we can't be hypnotized or traumatized. Or indoctrinated.

We learned psychic self-defense as small children, and everyone on Earth should be taught that much magic.

If you are inspired and heartened by what you've learned in terms of defending yourself from energetic and psychic attacks, you can go on from there to learn the means to use White Magic against Black Magic. That is certainly not for everyone, but among those reading this, there are those who have what it takes in terms of energy, ability to focus, strength of intention, firmness of character, and love --- to be a Spiritual Warrior.

I didn't realize it, but I've been trained all my life.
Meantime....

It has been estimated that if only 10,000 people would attune themselves to the frequency of love in the same moment, the entire Earth would be transformed in the twinkling of an eye ---- and that was not calculated by a priest or a dreamy-eyed shaman sitting on a beach. That was calculated by a physicist who was amazed to find that the means to make the Biblical prophecy come true, was already hard-wired into the world we live in.

So come on, folks, hasten the day! Fill your hearts and minds with loving thoughts. Use your ability to daydream. Pour on your random acts of kindness!

I only need 9,999 to join me!
