

No, China Does Not Own California

By Anna Von Reitz

There is an obnoxious video/email going around the circuit claiming that China "owns" California. I am not sorry at all that this isn't true, but like most lies, it does contain a kernel of buried truth. Consider what I am going to tell you now very carefully:

No, China does not own California. CHINA may own the STATE OF CALIFORNIA, which is a different matter entirely... Oh, and for everyone's information, we, the actual United States of America (unincorporated) own the UNITED STATES, INC., which owns CHINA.

I hope that you are all now suitably confused and aroused and want to know what is really happening.

Most of the speculation can be set at rest. The vermin centered in portions of California are being "burned out" --- unfortunately many innocent people and their property remain in harm's way. Bear in mind that those targeted have been instrumental in embezzling the entire "National Credit" owed to the American states and people, and that they have committed many crimes "in the name of" their own victims, so that the rest of the world is angry at us and mistaking us as the source of their problems.

What is interesting to me about this, is that these criminals---most of whom don't have a clue that they are involved in anything criminal--- are being targeted by their own masters, the top leadership of their own cabal has ordered their extermination in order to destroy the records of all the crimes and false accounting that has gone on. They are literally burning down their own offices and records stashes. Just as they burned whole libraries in Germany. Just as they torched the Library in Alexandria. Just as they set fire to Washington, DC, during the War of 1812 to try to cover up the truth about the Titles of Nobility Amendment and the frauds of their central bank at that time.

More of the same. Some things never change. This is how "they" do things---- they turn on their own servants and co-opted business partners and seek to destroy the records of their crimes. But guess what? It's all been captured and downloaded and distributed already.

It's a brilliant strategy so long as people remain deceived and think that these criminals either are us or represent us as agents.

When the Truth comes out and it becomes known that we have been the victims of the same criminals, the worm turns. Suddenly, people can see the two distinct groups identified in the Treaty of Paris (1783) and also in the actual Constitution--- and they are then able to wrap their heads around the fact that these rats have been working a fraud scheme against their employers (us, the American states and people) at the same time that they have been fomenting wars and pillaging and promoting crime and immorality in other countries "in our names"--- disgracing our flag and our nation abroad while secretly pillaging us at home.

And that, dear hearts, is what is actually, factually going on. The whole world is waking up and realizing that this is not a political problem. This is a matter of international crime and crime syndicates masquerading as lawful governments, of armed commercial mercenaries pretending to be soldiers, and of "evil in high places". As usual, the Bible described it best.

Time to wise up and buckle down and pass the word by word of mouth so that everyone everywhere finally knows what is going on----on the streets and in the cities, on the motorways and byways, here and abroad, within the military community and among the civilians and here at home in the actual, factual America, too.
