

Committee of 300 v. 7,000,000,000 Victims

By Anna Von Reitz

I just received Notice from the Committee of 300 that Queen Elizabeth II will be stepping down as leader of this group of psychopaths in favor of "someone" younger -- yet to be announced.

Join me in recognizing the fact that the "Committee of 300" and the interests that these "Thirteen Bloodline Families" represent are all either: (a) criminal enterprises or (b) criminally connected enterprises, that need to be liquidated and the assets and profits returned to the victims.

They are blaming the Hapsburgs for their sins --who are really the least of the problem, but then, that is typical of liars and thieves and pirates. They seek to deflect attention and blame from the more active and virulent members of their criminal enterprise, while those who drag their feet and "cause problems" are singled out to take the blame.

Rotten to the core and to the end, because whether they realize it or not, this is the end. The Apocalypse. The time when the Sword of Truth is unleashed.

And it's already over, except for the shouting.

See this article and over 1400 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the PayPal button on this website.