General Dunford, Mr. Trump, Everyone Concerned

---Courage Is The First Virtue

By Anna Von Reitz

The Ancient Romans taught that "Courage is the first virtue." Why? Because without courage, you can't guarantee any other virtue. You will be subject to whomever or whatever can frighten you the most. At their bidding and because of your fear, you will bow to whatever evil any vile creature in the universe can imagine.

For that reason, it is imperative that you drive out all fear.

There are profoundly evil men--- I won't even call them "men"--- rather, there are evil creatures, among us. Monsters in the bodies of men.

Find out who ordered and approved the construction of 800 FEMA Camps on our shores and the importation of 30,000 guillotines and the ordering of millions of body bags ----- and you will know without any doubt who these evil creatures are and what they have intended for their Priority Creditors. Simply follow the money back to source.

These creatures have been warned repeatedly what to expect if they do not cease and desist their "program" of destruction and death. They have been given international and Astral Notice. Their activities have been fully reported and noted and all their activities (which they imagine are carried out in secret) are fully documented, detailed, and known.

Despite being openly told that there "are no secrets" and given proof of it, too, they have persisted in their delusions and have launched fairly sophisticated resonance weapons intended to disrupt biological DNA and electrochemical systems of biological organisms on Earth.

Their "war satellites" are in position and they are threatening populations in North America and China.

Project your consciousness 90 miles above the Earth, on the edge of the Van Allen Plasma Belt and observe the grid lines that exist there. Their satellites are directly observable and glow with an odd putrid hospital green color.

Call upon our Father and his Angels, visually showing them the threat these creatures are posing to you and to all Creation----and target them.
Focus the energy of your mind and your emotions on these resonance weapon satellites glowing vaguely green against the darkness of the firmament and ask for them to be removed. Just that. Removed.

First, a dark, swirling mist envelops them and the creatures on Earth they are connected to.

Second, swiftly, they are consumed and reduced literally to atomic dust that is blown away harmlessly by the solar wind.

Third, though you know this has happened and that these "people" no longer exist, somehow you don't remember them. They are simply gone and there is no sense of loss or regret.

A great sense of peace and relief fills your mind and senses. It feels like you can draw a deep breath again after many years of shallow panting. You can hear birdsong again. You can smell the Earth.

It's over.

Call to your Father and use your gifts and abilities that you have inherited from Him. Raise up your mighty spirits forged in the mists of time. All you Guardians, rise!

-----------------------------

See this article and over 500 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com
To support this work look for the PayPal button on this website.