Deed Claim and Copyright

Whereas I am the lawful, biological, and responsible Father of a new baby daughter born to me on the fifth day of July of 2017 on the land and soil of Jackson County, Wisconsin, fully admitting paternity, now therefore I do record and claim the Deed and Copyright the Trade Name of my daughter: Josephine Lee Cartwright, said name and estate to be held in trust for her until her 21st birthday on the fifth of July 2038, jointly by her natural Mother and Father as our grantee of name and estate:

Josephine Lee Cartwright is born into the covenant of Holy Matrimony between:

Father: David Michael Cartwright;

Born: September 3, 1989, in the town of Polsboro, Hills County, Vermont;

To: Michael David and Melissa Anne Cartwright, of Ellen Falls, Vermont;

And her natural Mother: Elaine Lilian Cartwright, nee Schuler;

Born: May 14, 1992, in the town of Merrilan, Clark County, Wisconsin;

To: Martin and Elvia Schuler, of Neillsville, Wisconsin.

Josephine Lee Cartwright is my right-wise and natural progeny and heir unblemished by any claim of commerce, free-born on the land and soil of Wisconsin, a blood-line member of our joined families from the moment of her conception and she is the inheritor of the peaceful land jurisdiction of Wisconsin from the fifth of July 2017 forever afterward. So I affirm this day in the presence of these Witnesses and affix my autograph and seal (thumbprint) in token thereof:

Instructions

1. This is only intended to serve as an example of a properly executed Deed Claim and Copyright in behalf of a baby and her name on the land jurisdiction of an American state of the Union. You have to adjust it to the peculiarities of your state and county and situation.
2. This particular claim has to be made by a man under the still substantive Public Law of the 1850's. If the Father is dead or absent or incapacitated, claim may be made by either grandfather, an uncle willing to be responsible for the baby's welfare, a grown brother, or a godfather willing to exercise a similar responsibility as trustee for the child.
3. If at all possible, the Witnesses should be blood-relatives of the Mother and/or Father, able to confirm that the baby is part of their family. If not, the Witnesses can be godparents or friends of the family.
4. This claim must be followed up on or in the year prior to the baby's 21st birthday with the issuance of a Certificate of Assumed Name under the reserved Common Law remedies concerning Assumed Names in your state. An example of this document to be used by adults for their own business purposes has been posted recently on my website.
5. At the time of recording this Deed Claim and Copyright, be sure to get at least three certified copies, and distribute them to yourself and your Witnesses. This way you will have the public record and three private copies of the public record, so that no matter what happens your chances are good of having access to a copy when and if you need it.
6. The time to present this record is when and if any "State of _____" organization attempts to presume upon the baby or her parents. Make a copy of the certified copy and write on it: I certify that this is a true, complete, and correct copy of the document in my possession: by: _____ Document Custodian, dated:_____.

7. Record this document as soon as possible after each child is born and BEFORE the Mother is coerced into signing any documents at the hospital. The standing record of Paternity issued by a man on the land jurisdiction will cancel out the coerced signature of the Mother. When forced to sign the hospital registration papers, the Mother should always cross out the word "Informant" and write "Mother" in its place, and should use the word "by" in front of her signature and a © after it, so that the contract created cannot be sold without violating her private copyright.
