

A Quick and Very Dirty Explanation

By Anna Von Reitz

The most succinct description of the Eternal Flaw of the Bretton Woods Plan I have ever seen comes from Peter B. Meyer at The Final Wake-Up Call:

"Money creation through debt issuance must remain in balance with economic growth. As debt increases, more growth is needed, and if this growth falters, so does the entire money system unless the excess debt is removed."

Okay, Campers, he has just told you something that generations of people never realized and were never taught in school.

In order to work, the Bretton Woods System established after the Second World War, required eternal economic growth and/or commensurate debt reduction, to work.

Let's ask ourselves: Does anything grow eternally? And how fond are politicians of paying debts?

We are fast approaching the anniversary of the failure of this system: August 15, 1971, the date that Richard M. Nixon admitted the failure by refusing to settle international debts in gold.

As we discussed yesterday, Americans are required to pay for governmental services in silver or gold, while our U.S. employees are required to function on credit. This is a requirement/limitation of our constitutional agreements.

It is designed this way to ensure that we always remain the Preferential Creditors of our Subcontractors --- and so we are, but, ever since the so-called Civil War, our access to our own resources has been blocked, and those resources have been cashiered away "for us" by the British Monarch acting under the direction of the various Popes.

This has resulted in a situation where the British Territorial Government has acted as a Public Trustee without any granted authority, and the Presumed Donors of these bogus Public Trusts, the American People, haven't been able to actually pay a debt in over a hundred and sixty years.

Literally.

Instead, absolutely all of our assets -- down to our bodies and souls --- have been "securitized" and "monetized" --- given a value, and issued as credit, which is --- not coincidentally, the form of "money" that our British Territorial and HRE Municipal Federal Subcontractors can spend.

This has led in turn to a situation in which they, our Federal Subcontractors, can only accrue debt, debt, and more debt. They have no ability to actually pay a debt themselves (it takes actual asset-backed money to pay a debt) because they function entirely on credit, while we, the Americans, have been prevented from paying any debts because all our gold and silver and land and other assets have been cashiered away by these same Federal Subcontractors and used as collateral backing their debts.

Enter Bretton Woods. Remember that in order to succeed, the Bretton Woods Plan requires at least one of two things --- (1) growth of the economy, or (2) removal of excess debt.

And, remember, there is no way for the Federal Subcontractors to pay a debt.

They don't own our assets and they have no authority to encumber our assets, because contrary to their claims, our American Government never disappeared and the collapse of the so-called Federal Republic after the Civil War required no salvage operation.

The Federal Republic was an American-owned and operated Federal Subcontractor entrusted to exercise delegated powers by the Confederation of States, which was itself in receipt of delegated powers from the Federation of States.

Notice the source of authority and how that authority flows from Federation to Confederation to Federal Republic?

When both the Federal Republic and the Confederation were destroyed in the wake of the Civil War, the Federation of States remained. All powers delegated by the Federation rolled back to it by Operation of Law. All that needed to happen was for the American Government to be called back into Session.

So, now it has been, and from our perspective, the mountain of debt accumulated by our British Territorial and HRE Municipal Federal Subcontractors needs to be removed as Odious Debt and our assets need to be returned free and clear to our control.

This includes our physical assets which have been held "in trust" and our credit assets, which others have been spending "for" us, without our consent.

Robinson Crusoe has returned. He didn't die intestate. His estate must be made whole by the court that distributed it "prematurely" to his presumed heirs. This is the immutable and centuries-old law of public Cestui Que Vie Trusts.

I, acting as Fiduciary of The United States of America, our unincorporated Federation of States, claimed all American Public Trusts/Cestui Que Vie Estates beginning in 1998 and rolled them over into my own private non-statutory trust estate as property belonging to The United States of America.

Next, I published my Irrevocable Will granting back all private property owed to individual Americans and all public property owed to the individual States.

The Vatican Chancery Court, the Queen's Court, and the International Court of Justice are all responsible for their "mistakes" and misadministration of the American estate assets that our Federal Subcontractors commandeered under conditions of self-interested non-disclosure and deceit.

Bretton Woods couldn't work and didn't work because the debt repayment side of the equation was rendered impossible and the presumption of eternal sustained economic growth was illogical.

Read that: everyone concerned knew it couldn't work, and did it anyway.

They created public trusts with no plausible reason to do so, commandeered the assets in these trusts to use as collateral backing their debts, and created the largest pile of Odious Debt in human history.

Odious Debt is by definition debt established by false pretenses, semantic deceit or other means of fraud, of which the victims are unaware, and from which they do not profit.

There are over 320 million Americans and you can ask any one of them, "Did you know that you were declared legally dead?" --- and the answer will be the same: "No! What are you talking about?"
