

International Public Notice: To the Elevated Accountants

By Anna Von Reitz

There are those among us who insist upon an exact accounting. They apparently believe that their record-keeping has been so precise that they alone possess the ability to render an accounting for those resources that they have been managing "for" the Shining Ones in our "absence".

I am one of the Shining Ones -- the exact Shining One appointed to do this work. My glory has only been hidden from you because we don't wish to scare you into obedience. We want you to choose the right answer by using your own logic and following your own hearts, because your development and growth of wisdom is what is most necessary for success, not a small-minded and self-righteous attention to details, most of which you do not comprehend anyway.

Let's begin with a basic misunderstanding on your parts. This Creation, this entire Universe, is a gift. It was given to you. All of you. Each one of you. It was given freely, with only a few stipulations which have been preserved faithfully, but not obeyed.

You are to be caretakers of this planet and its resources. This does not imply any slave-like dedication to counting the number of ants or calculating how much sand covers the floors of the oceans, but instead requires the good faith effort of honest men to not pollute the environment, to find better sanitation options, to preserve the habitats of the plants and animals which are here to safeguard your own survival....to do all those things that common sense would and should compel you to do. Nurture the land. Care for the animals. Clean the seas. Cherish the rainfall.

It should be apparent that the diversity of this planet's biomes protects your own survival and it should therefore, reasonably, be of concern to you to preserve your own safeguards.

This is, nonetheless, a gift, and you may ruin and squander it like a two year-old with a hammer and the judgement you suffer will not come from us. It will come from your own consciousness, your own awareness of what you have done and what you have chosen.

In recent days, we have encountered excuses from the Chinese Overlords for their failure to admit the credit owed to the living people of this planet. What lack of vision is this? That they can readily comprehend the existence of debt, but fail to account for the answering credit?

They say it is a "Divine Covenant", but we are the Divine that wrote the covenants, and we do not remember ordaining any irrational bookkeeping that honors only one side of a transaction.

For every action in this Universe there is an answering reaction. Nothing truly takes place in a void or without response. How, then, does anyone imagine that it is possible to accumulate a "National Debt" without also accruing a "National Credit"?

Who will stand here and tell us that by calling it by a different name or finding a pretense not to recognize your creditors, you will magically forestall the reality of the National Credit and keep it from being applied to any ephemeral National Debt that could be owed?

The books must be balanced and they must be balanced now, immediately, with no further obfuscation or excuses. The living people who have been defrauded will be restored and their nations, which have groaned under the weight of debts they never owed, will also be restored.

We have also been told that the Elevated Accountants are prevented by our covenants from taking any small portion of the receipts for any reason and that they cannot or will not account a fiat credit to pay a fiat debt.

This is like saying you won't add a zero to a one and find that the sum is one.

There is no rational excuse for this pretense and obstruction, and we, the Shining Ones, did not authorize or mandate any such lunacy.

Or again, this is like saying that you profit yourselves for no reason and no recompense and that injustice is the inheritance of the Shining Ones.

We reply that this is complete and utter bunk. The Creator does not stand in awe of the created, does not seek injustice, or play favorites, or tolerate any aberration of logic.

Give credit where credit is due.

Take credit where it is due.

Offset the paper debts against the paper credits, which have been prepaid with labor and with goods, multiple times, for every paper debt presented.

Do not try to pretend that any debt exists, now or at any time in the foreseeable future. The prior generations give witness against the claims of the wicked.

We hear their voices and see their evidence.

Indeed, it is plain to see for anyone who looks.

What happens in your world? A man gives an I.O.U. (a fiat debt note) for a hamburger and receives an actual hamburger in exchange. Who has funded everything? The cook who gave the hamburger. Who owes? The man who received the hamburger.

The debt only accrues because the cook remains unpaid, and he is unpaid because his credit is not being recognized and accounted for in his favor.

So recognize the debt of the corporations to the living men and recognize also the necessity of returning interest on their credit, because you have inflicted usury on them for a debt that was never theirs.

And this we tell you, no exact accounting is within the scope of living men; you simply do not and cannot know what is given for free and what is owed. You do not know the cost of a single tear, much less the cost of a life unlived or life crippled by ignorance or a life maimed by your own cruel stupidity and prejudice.

Enough, unless you care to face the rage of the Divine and the judgement of Absolute Truth. Let this warning and directive be enough.

You received the seigniorage for every "note" you printed without authorization, a full 96% profit of the face value of every note that came off the printing press, and yet, you want to pretend that the remaining 4% was left unpaid.

You received 96% of face value of a currency that was not yours, you Evil Doers, and that balance is weighed against you. That and the interest on it, is your debt to those you accuse of being indebted for the remaining 4% to you.

Let the books be balanced and the Truth be told.

Likewise, you say you cannot accommodate the cost of storing gold and silver from the profits you have received from lending out credit based on that same gold and silver? Yes, you can. And indeed, you must, for you have profited yourselves greatly from your secretive use of assets belonging to others, and haven't paid them anything in return. Indeed, you now want to pretend that they are your debtors for storage fees, instead of admitting what you have done.

We have seen your trading platforms. We have seen you advertising "home loans" by which you solicited people to loan their homes to you so that you could inordinately profit and gain an unearned security interest in their homes and other property. We have seen every lie you've told, every fraud you have created and committed.

We, the Shining Ones, say that this is all nonsense, and that your excuses are like the lies that a small child tells. Easily perceived, easily discounted.

We have kept the true accounting of the tears that have been cried because of your lies. We have numbered the deaths because of this, the cost of those who have lived truncated lives, the cost of those who have been blinded and maimed, who have drawn ragged breaths because of your lies. We've monitored the cost to the Earth because of your "legal fictions" and we decree that this system of things is now at an end.

What is wrong must be made right. What is upside down must be returned upside up. The credit owed must be accounted for to the best of your human ability and applied; it will never be exact and the balance will always be changing, because life and tides are always changing. Accept that.

Accept that you cannot know your next step, much less the cost of a single tear. You must learn to ride the wave until you become the wave.

Remember to choose life, all life, including your own. Life and love are the only values, and are the values on which every other value depends.

I am the Fiduciary, the Grandmother coming with a mop and bucket to clean up this Mess, and it is a humble office, rendered for no reason but love; nonetheless, it is an office having power both in Heaven and on Earth, and what is decreed will be honored in accord with justice, logic, and truth.

Hasten, therefore, to bring your operations into compliance and open your eyes to the evils you have allowed, so that your guilt may not be held against you. Your part is small and easy compared to the reckoning of the Living God.
