

International Public Notice: The End Game

By Anna Von Reitz

Strange as it is, hundreds of people have been going to cemeteries tracking transmitter signals --- the same kinds of signals that cell phones give off, coming from the buried coffins of dead relatives, friends, and loved ones, who were injected with the Covid 19 "vaccine".

This phenomenon was discovered by Mexican researchers a few months into the "live exercise", confirmed by other researchers in Spain and in several other South American countries, and is now, belatedly being confirmed by people all over the world.

Everyone who received the Covid 19 injections became a walking, talking transmitter in Bill Gates' biological internet, which, of course, was to be controlled by him. And even when they die, their transmitter station stays turned on.

That's what all the researchers into the Night of the Living Dead Signals discovered.

As usual, this wasn't really Gates' invention or even idea; he has been nothing but an opportunist favored by political cronies his entire life, so no, Gates didn't discover or create the concept of a biological internet.

That honor --- dubious as it is at this point, belongs to Dr. Michael Persinger.

Persinger's discoveries were picked up by the CIA and DARPA, and licensed to Gates for commercial development.

As Persinger proved, it takes about ten minutes for a thought in one person's brain to transmit to every other person's brain on the planet; given a little more time and energy, this single thought can populate backward into what we think of as "time" ---- a vast magnetic field recording ---- which is still populated by every magnetic pattern representing our ancestor's brains.

Just think of it as cosmos-spanning Memorex.

So Gates takes this information handed to him on a silver platter and comes up with the idea of "vaccinating" everyone as a transmitter in a biological internet, which can then be programmed to believe and do whatever the programmers desire, simply by adding and omitting information--- whether it's true or not. It would be the ultimate control grid.

And they've already vaccinated two-thirds of humanity.

"Safe and effective" for who? For them, until we found out about it.

You've just been informed what --- besides all the gratuitous disease-causing scraps of harmful DNA included to generate huge profits for the captive medical services industry --- the whole Covid 19 scam was about, and you now know why they were all, regardless of political parties, so supportive of having everyone vaccinated, except of course, themselves, their sons and daughters, their staffers, their staffer's families, and various religious groups they are associated with, most especially the Scientologists, not the Jews.

Who knew?

Every member of Congress who voted for this and then also voted to exempt themselves.

They are all guilty as Hell. So are the CIA thugs and DARPA goons who worked on this. Joe Biden and Donald Trump, both, thought this was a good idea. The guys at the Patent Office, too. All of them.

They were all ready, willing, and unfortunately, able, to vote to mentally and emotionally castrate you --- and that is what they were aiming at. But it didn't quite work the way they thought it would.

They got too greedy. They just had to throw in all the poisons and DNA scraps intended to create long-term disease profits for the medical industry. The results were too immediate. Too many people died. It created too much alarm and suspicion.

And now, they and their corporate cohorts in the WEF and the European Parliament and in the "federal" Agencies used to do the Dirty Work and all the other goons and gremlins responsible for this are, quite literally, up for it.

Most of the Vermin have killed themselves, by accepting the same injections they were giving everyone else. These True Believers have died or are dying for the Cause of Human Enslavement, even though they blathered all their lives about freedom and democracy.

Mother Nature is proving more obdurate and determined than any of them initially supposed; even Dr. Mengele-Fauci. People are living longer than expected and that is placing more burden on the insurance system, which has already been drained by the plot to bring in Mexican and Honduran workers to replace the American creditors they are bent on killing and defrauding.

Both these corporations and their honchos have to go; it's just a matter of how and when. The Municipals are supposed to exit January first; the Territorials will have to be shoved out via international and legal action.

And then, finally, America will be America again.

Nobody should be fooled into thinking that the Americans aren't here. And heavily armed.
