

The End of Days

By Anna Von Reitz

Time, like money, is an illusion.

It seems that "time is flowing past" us, but in fact, we and the Earth around us are the ones doing the flowing and changing--- and time is just a handy cataloging device to keep track of our events and changes.

The things that were no longer are in our experience and the things that will be, aren't here yet, either. There is only now, this moment, and our position relative to it, forever.

So when people talk about The End of Days and Judgment Day, stop a moment and think.

This is, by definition, Judgment Day. There is this day and no other in which any decisions can be made. It is our Judgment Day when the decisions we make forever impact our lives and the lives of others--- for good or for ill in the sight of the True God.

So let your judgments be righteous and good this day and everyday, for when we rise up in the morning you can be sure that this is Judgment Day.

Similarly, you can be sure that the End of Days will come the moment that we all stop using days as a counting unit to measure a commodity that doesn't exist.
