

Eugenics in America

By Anna Von Reitz

Eugenics is an outgrowth of racial prejudice.

It is rooted in the idea that some people are better than others, based on their genetic content, and the idea we should selectively breed people like we breed dogs.

This is an explicitly repugnant and ignorant idea, but some of the richest people in the world have subscribed to it as part of their own delusional self-importance and superiority complexes.

Cecil Rhodes, John D. Rockefeller, Lord Pirbright, the Churchills (Lords Marlborough), Henry Wellcome, and their followers, like Theodore Roosevelt and his Cousin Franklin, Margaret Sanger (founder of Planned Parenthood) and, infamously, the Nazi Doctor Mengele, formed research cells and political organizations and purported philanthropic clubs to promote the whole nasty claptrap of Eugenics.

Eugenics was the supposed scientific backing for Hitler's Übermensch ideas and claims of German racial superiority.

People are generally shocked to learn that Planned Parenthood comes from the same polluted rootstock and that this one organization is literally responsible for the selective abortion of millions of black babies --- far in excess of any other racial group.

By the 1930's more than half the States of States in this country had adopted Forced Sterilization laws that led to mental patients, people suffering emotional breakdowns, people who had any kind of physical disfigurement, who were indigent, or otherwise "unsuitable" in the eyes of the self-appointed gods, were subjected to forced sterilization like unwanted pound puppies.

Those committed to the ideas of Eugenics are firmly convinced that they have saved the world from the burden of mentally and physically unfit people, and are totally ignorant of the biodiversity and the contributions to humanity that they have destroyed by murdering millions of potential contributors.

Eugenists, like racists, like Nazis, like any and all prejudiced, ignorant, self-deluded and self-aggrandizing individuals, think that what they are doing and what they are believing in, is good and right.

They lack the brains and moral compass to know otherwise, and have no faith in divinity that would lead them to see others as mirrors of the Creator equal to themselves.

A friend of mine once compared Black Magic to a pool of polluted water, and so it is with the egotistical mindset that promoted --- and still promotes --- Eugenics.

We are not all perfect specimens. Indeed, we are all one-of-a-kind, with our own quirks and special capabilities and equally profound imperfections. We are not widgets pumped out of an assembly line. We are not dogs or cattle to be bred to a breed standard, either.

When you meet these odd and filthy ducks paddling about in their polluted pools of delusional superiority, please take a moment to reflect upon their big, misshapen feet, their beady eyes, their narrow noses, their jaws resembling those of a lizard, or alternatively, their fat, blocky, ugly faces with crooked teeth and red-rimmed, wrinkle-enshrouded eyes that give them the look of a failed human-rhinoceros hybrid ---- and reflect with me that these people really shouldn't be promoting eugenics.

See this article and over 4400 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the Donate button on this website.