

Just Another Fedsurrection

By Anna Von Rietz

Facebook Readers, wait a few hours and then go to my website, www.annavonreitz.com and look for this Article Title to get the full story. FB would censor it, but the Truth has to come out about the way these "governmental services corporations" have been operating --- and why.

In a nutshell, evidence is emerging that the whole January 6 debacle was planned, but not by the rioters.

It was planned and carried out by Federal officers and employees.

Now, if you are an average American, the whole idea sounds loony: take a peaceful rally at the Capitol and turn it into something chaotic and threatening? On purpose?

If you have been awake and watching the show for a while, it's not loony, it's expected.

It has become routine for federal government corporations to stage "events" for political motives, whether these are False Flags or dramatizations of possible disaster scenarios, like the recent 10-nation "simulation" of a worldwide financial collapse brought on by computer hackers, all these corporate government organizations are in love with Hollywood, dramas, and disasters.

They have budgets for these productions.

They have film crews.

They have troupes of actors.

Why?

Because Fear Sells, and it brings them what they crave most --- power.

It's the ultimate Hegelian Dialectic Reward and it's easy to create in an unsuspecting population: create a danger, or just the appearance of a danger, let the public react, and then introduce the government as the (well-paid) savior. Now, you can buy the idea of "predictive programming" --- that we create what we think about, so we can manipulate reality by seeding ideas in the general population --- or you can wake up and see that, as FDR said, there are no accidents.

We are not doing this to ourselves. We are guinea pigs in more ways than one, being poked and prodded to see what sells. What is it this week? Pedophiles, vampires, or Men in Black? Maybe WWII? How about a pandemic?

But the fact is that the US CORP went bankrupt again on December 15th, and the only likely reason for any disaster is the resulting vacuum of power and the grasping and clawing of criminals trying to hang onto it.

If you have been smelling the java for as long as I have, it's easy to see the Hidden Hands bringing on their self-made Biblical Prophecy Fulfillment Plan. We now know the identity of the nation which was dead, but comes suddenly alive: Israel.

We now know the identity of the Ten Kings: US, UK, UAE, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Netherlands, and Thailand. All the usual suspects, in other words. We now know about the implementation of the Mark of the Beast --- the Bar Code implants designed to RFID everyone without their knowledge or consent, and the secretive genetic engineering implants designed to reduce the population at the same time that they give the villains an excuse to claim (by patent, no less) an ownership (as in slave ownership) in their victims and their victim's estates.

First, they killed us off on paper, now, they are going for the real deal.

We even know how they plan to render both fiat and gold worthless: government sponsored cryptocurrencies that cost them virtually nothing to produce, and which they can control down to the gnat's eyelash.

Yes, in the oft-stated rhetoric of the Q Crowd, it's biblical, all right. The criminals really aren't very bright or creative, so they tag along on whatever thematic material comes to hand.

If it further discredits religion, that's even better from their perspective. But be not like "dumb, driven cattle" restlessly bumping into each other's egos as you mill about, longing for a stampede.

Read, listen, learn and use your Shinola Sensor like never before.

Piece together the actual story lines that these various factions are trying to sell you, and realize that like vendors at a flea market, they are trying to sell you a future based on whatever you react to.

Remember the Monty Python Cheese Shop skit?

The unassuming victim enters what appears to be a British Cheese Shop and innocently inquires about the availability of her favorite cheeses. One by one, she patiently asks about the different varieties, and after some dissembling, John Cleese admits that, no, he doesn't have any of that.....

Finally, in frustration, the woebegone would-be customer asks, well, what kind of cheese do you have?

A single dried up crust of cheddar.

At the end of the day, these governmental services corporations have nothing much to sell you. They never owned anything in the first place. All the power they projected was borrowed from you.

So now they are chasing each other's tails, presenting pre-planned disaster after disaster after disaster, hoping that we'll realize how necessary they are and give them a contract.

Like a milkman who props up prices by shooting cows, they create death and destruction as an excuse to keep themselves in power. The only way you get any peace is by kneeling to their extortion, or by locking the criminals up.

Here in America, we've been kneeling to them since the Civil War. It's time to try the other alternative, even if it's just a crust of cheddar.

See this article and over 3400 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the Donate button on this website.