

For the Record, Rothschilds v. Rockefellers

By Anna Von Reitz

It isn't the Rothschilds that are primarily responsible for the misery and defrauding of America. It's the Rockefellers, Morgans, Mellons, and all the other Players named yesterday in my explanation of the fraud process used to undermine and commandeer our institutions including our governmental organizations.

The Rothschilds are businessmen. They are there to make a deal. If they can make money or leverage an advantage, they take the shot, they win or they lose. They are, for the most part (some noted exceptions) rather jaundiced and jaded, unimpressed with money and all it means, merely very, very adroit users of money as a tool -- which is all that money is or was ever meant to be.

They, of all people on the planet, know what "money" and "credit" are, and also all the uses of "debt" and "securities".

But taken on the whole as an entire family, the Rothschilds are not particularly malevolent or ill-intended. They generally take the tack that good business results in profit for everyone. They'd rather milk the Cash Cow than kill it for the insurance money.

And besides, their basic interests are rooted in Europe and expanded into the East and other spheres many, many years ago. America is a pie, to be sure, but far from the only pie on their table.

The Rockefellers are scions of the old corrupt, criminal, nasty, and ultimately suppressed Dutch East India Company, like the Roosevelts and Vanderbilts. The Dutch East India Company was far larger and more powerful than the British Crown and one day in the early 1700's, it simply disappeared. Where did the largest merchant transport fleet in the world go?

America.

That's how we had a vast merchant fleet but not a navy when the Constitution went down.

It's the homegrown traitors that are the always the real danger, and this is no exception.

Just as you are 95 out of a 100 times more likely to be murdered by a friend or relative than a stranger, when it comes to being the victim of fraud or treason the same percentages apply. What has been done to us is an inside job, done by people who have lived in this country for generations, yet have not attached their loyalties or affections to it.

The worst of this current Mess hasn't come to us from the Rothschilds. It has come from the Rockefellers and their allies. The French have profited from it---immensely. The British, too. But the cause of the problem, the root of the evil and treason at the bottom of the pile in this case is homegrown. It stems from people who grew up here, who went to school here, who should --rationally--- care what happens to this country and their neighbors. And don't.

Colonel House, the engineer of this enslavement and corruption, was an American born in Houston, Texas.

So, if you want to deal with the problem, deal with the problem.

Don't get on the "Blame the Rothschild" bandwagon when your real beef is with Dutchmen called Rockefeller and Roosevelt, instead. And despite my disgust with the almost-equally depraved and unjust behavior of the British Monarchy and the British Crown--- let's own the fact that those responsible for the actual nuts-and-bolts of the Great Fraud grew up here, sat in Congress here, served as Governors here---- and betrayed us all, deliberately, with malice aforethought.
