

International Public Notice: More Gross Abuses of Trust

By Anna Von Reitz

Those who remember the progression of Kevin Annett's long crusade to bring the Death Cult to justice will remember that one of the most alarming and first unsettling claims involved the disappearance of Native children from a residential home in Canada during a state visit by Elizabeth II and Prince Philip.

Those children were never seen again. They left the school as part of the royal retinue.

So where are they? If they went to a different school, possibly in England, where are the records?

Everything about the royal retinue is scrupulously recorded and kept, down to what Her Majesty ate for breakfast on June 8th 1952.

How do you explain multiple missing children who left a Canadian Residential School in the company of the royal couple and vanished, never to be heard from or seen again?

These children were all old enough to remember their own names and identities.

The historical evidence suggests that the British Monarchy has been subordinate to a Death Cult hidden within the Roman Catholic Church since the reign of Henry VIII.

That evidence also suggests a very cynical quid pro quo regarding a black trade in souls via baptismal records converted into "baptismal certificates" beginning in the 1500's and commercial trade in "birth certificates" since the 1800s.

Thus the British Monarchs and the Popes acting in the office of "Roman Pontiff" -- a secular office -- told themselves that they owned the souls (via baptismal certificates), the bodies (via Birth Certificates) and the minds/labor (via BIRTH CERTIFICATES) of their victims.

They just didn't tell the rest of us about their grandiose claims.

The facts remain: they didn't create any of us and they didn't obtain any honest contract with anyone, but via the use of undisclosed and unconscionable contracts, they have managed to own people as slaves and as indentured servants, by impersonating us, using the Bar Associations for enforcement, and making False Commercial Claims involving aggravated identity theft.

All of this was supposed to be a sacred trust; the question has to be asked--- sacred to which religion? The Roman branch of the Babylonian Death Cult we all know as Satanism, or the Anglican Church operated as a Roman Catholic franchise, or actual Roman Catholicism?

There, as their last redoubt, the Satanists have landed, trying to tell us that it was Satanism that we unwittingly signed up for, and so, we are obligated to perform, to sacrifice our children to Molloch, to worship Mammon, to commit every sin, lie every lie, and so on.

They have tried their best to hide behind a storefront of their worst enemies. To some extent, they are still trying to do that. Faced with the evidence found at Cede and Company and the DTC and DTTC clearing house operations, there's no coming back.

What began with Henry VIIIth was continued by his daughter, Elizabeth I, who, together with her Advisor, Dr. John Dee, began summoning demons using Enochian "calls" in the last decades of the 1500's.

There is nothing to suggest that James I, a Catholic Monarch, and known homosexual, ended the practice.

Instead, there is a lasting monument to his cult membership -- the King James Version of the Bible, which made no less than 20,000 changes to the Geneva Bible; most of the changes were designed to promote abject obedience of the masses to the Monarchy, promote loopholes for sin and profiteering from sin, and denigrate women.

The Sin Taxes started by James I are still with us now, in the form of federal regulation of alcohol, tobacco and firearms. Taxes on the manufacture, sale and transport of these federally regulated substances across state borders were intended as the sole means of support for the Municipal United States Government -- run by the Holy Roman Empire.

This is why everything stays the same regardless of reforms and all the various "isms" --- nationalism, communism, fascism, corporatism and so on, used to distract from the root cause of all the criminality, violence, and injustice flowing from the corrupted "secular church" administration and the corrupt British Monarchy.

We understand the fondness of the British Public for the Monarchy, which is finally, in its eleventh hour, showing a little backbone and concern for the masses of people that have been betrayed. We even understand that much of the rot may have been concealed by previous generations. We admit that we don't know "the all of it" and have no idea how various people have been compromised, for what reasons, and to what end.

We do applaud Charles III for exposing Starmer's collusion with the EU to surrender national sovereignty. We consider that his true crowning achievement, worthy of a king defending his country at last.

Charles III didn't have the courage to admit that it was living people that were the bulk of the "national treasures" that his forebears sold into slavery using commercial processes and changes in word definitions.

Bottom line: neither the Popes nor the Monarchs created any of us; they are unable to restore the lives they have taken, the wealth they have purloined, or the time wasted.

We are free-standing, sovereign beings and our creator is not of this world.

We did not knowingly, willingly, nor voluntarily accept any ownership claims made by any of these foreign governments, and our parents were not given full disclosure of any material, spiritual or commercial ownership claims amounting to enslavement and/or peonage being advanced by baptism or any bureaucratic registration process.

These deceptions and self-interested False Commercial Claims reveal the depth of the moral corruption of these white collar criminals. You may judge for yourselves how much a totally unconscionable contract is worth.

The claim that everyone who was injected during the recent false epidemic was transformed into a transhuman without rights and owned as a GMO by DARPA has been foiled.

The intention to ensnare Americans by converting all bank accounts into FedNow accounts and giving them a small portion of what they are owed--- and then claiming that this "accommodation" is settlement of the British debt is not accepted nor is it acceptable, because it is offered with undisclosed strings and presumptions to the effect that the recipients are British Subjects.

This "interpretation" advanced by the Trump Administration would then allow the guilty British Crown Corporation to seize upon the whole estates of the victims with no further disclosure.

We preclude their offer with a counter-offer that they fully disclose and act with clean hands from now on.

The issue of nationality versus citizenship has to be addressed openly and honestly, and the people must be given not only a fully disclosed and free will choice of political affiliation without duress, or they must be presumed to be Americans, not Brits, not Romans.

As we speak, Europe is engulfed in protest from the Baltic to the Mediterranean Sea. The British Government is in chaos, Italy is virtually shut down, Germany on the brink of madness as it smells the taint of Fascist dictatorship wearing nice suits, yet here in America, we hear nothing at all about the civil unrest rocking the European Continent. Go figure.

We already have.
