

Hung Cao!

By Anna Von Reitz

I think his name should be a rallying cry for humanity. There could be no better representative for our loyal military forces worldwide, than a man who understands firsthand what is at stake.

This link below is not just an "ad" for another little piggy running for a Senate seat because of the juice to be had. This is a warning from a man who has been there:

Every veteran in America should stand up right about now, whether politically-inclined or not. And listen.

Those in Hung Cao's State should be doing everything they can to help him, because he is a Truth-Teller, and he is telling it like it is.

If I could vote in a British Territorial Municipal Corporation election, I'd be voting for Hung Cao.

His foreign name wouldn't put me off for a nano-second, because I'd see his heart and his heart is for the practical preservation of human freedom.

It's for America and what America is supposed to stand for, not the US, INC. and what the US INC. has promoted.

Of course, I'd still watch his voting record and make sure his words equaled his actions.

Which is how I can guarantee you that most politicians don't even try to keep their campaign promises.

There is, however, a look in Hung Cao's eyes and a sound in his voice that tells me that about himself and about his views and about his intent to put an end to the madness, he is telling the absolute truth.

I am inclined to think he's the real deal and that is a rare moment for me and would-be politicians.

If I were a U.S. Citizen, I'd vote for him.

Those of us who are still in Dual Status, can still vote.
