

Hurricane IRMA -- "War Goddess" --- Hahahahah!

By Anna Von Reitz

It was a bad storm, but nothing like the mass media hysteria you were made to listen to for days and days and days.

They were hoping you'd all believe in their garbage and make it into the "Storm of the Century" for them, but enough people chose to unlock their inherent abilities (or at least have faith enough to try) and the great frightening "War Goddess" just kinda frittered out and away.

That's the way it is with the Devil's tricks. He has to dupe you into not taking action, or into taking action under the delusions of half-truths and assumptions. He never had any real power of his own. He had to piggyback on your power and get you to abuse yourselves and others.

This is what he has done with the "US Military", too.

In point of fact, the Territorial United States and Municipal United States together don't amount to much in terms of being able to field an actual army, air force, or navy. They've had to depend upon us being deluded and sending our sons and daughters to serve in THEIR army.

The proper name for our armed forces is "American Armed Forces" --- not "U.S. Armed Forces". It only becomes "US Armed Forces" or "U.S. Armed Forces" when they add in the Puerto Rican Navy, the Home Guard on Guam, and whatever U.N. forces they can bring in.

Then, all of a sudden, the tiny, insignificant actual contribution of the "US" territories and the municipality of Washington, DC, morphs the American Armed Forces into the United States Armed Forces ---- because now the actual American Forces are joined by the combined might of all the bureaucrats, who give up their jobs in DC to volunteer, and the aforementioned power house organizations in Puerto Rico and Guam.

And instead of acting under the command of the Commander-in-Chief of the United States of America, Unincorporated, they are deluded into acting under the command of the Commander-in-Chief of the US Territorial and Municipal Corporations.

Kinda like waking up in bed with a woman who you think is your wife, but then.... uh.... not really.

Time to own your mistakes and come home, fellas.

We all need to wake up and draw a line of distinction between the bankrupt Territorial United States and the equally bankrupt Municipal United States and the actual, factual United States --- our America. And our American Armed Forces.

And we also need to stop acting as unpaid "volunteers" and sending our sons and daughters off to wage wars for profit. "Citizens" have to register to serve in the US Armed Forces when they turn 18, but American state nationals are not under any such requirement. Just say, "No." And keep saying it. And remind them that citizenship is -- and has to be -- voluntary, otherwise it is enslavement, involuntary peonage, press-ganging, kidnapping, or worse.

Once you surrender the "FEDERAL PERSON" and expatriate your domicile back to the land and soil of your birth and claim the copyright of your name, there is potent evidence on the public record rebutting their "presumptions" about you and your political status.

The most potent threat to America has not come from outside our borders, it has always come from within. It's come via all Satan's usual tricks--- semantic deceits, similar names deceits, half-truths, assumptions, fear, intimidation, racketeering --- but it's time for us to take back both our responsibility and our power.

Just like Hurricane IRMA. When you face it head-on and execute your Will and tell the storm to lie down, it lies down. Same thing will happen in Washington, DC, when you get your backs up and your heads screwed on.
