

International Public Notice: The Issue of Israel

By Anna Von Reitz

We write in the aftermath of the World Court decision condemning Israel as a state. And demand made upon all members of the United Nations to enforce this finding.

Note, they did not deny Israel's status as a nation, but so far as they are concerned, Israel, the nation, had no standing to wage war. This is an important point, and one that Jacob Rothschild was always at pains to obscure.

Having gratuitously declared a policy (note that policies are issued by corporations) endorsing a Jewish homeland in Palestine, which was part of the Ottoman Empire at the time; the endlessly meddling British Government used this 1917 Balfour Declaration to establish a de facto military protectorate in Palestine.

Prior to, During, and after World War II, the Rothschilds petitioned the British Government to honor the Balfour Declaration and agree to a 99 year lease on a portion of Palestine known to have historical Jewish significance--- to serve as a home for Jews fleeing the Third Reich. "Israel" thus acquired a border, a name, and the appearance of a small country; the narrative attached to this was a theme of the Jewish Diaspora being ended.

The Jews, they and we, were told, were coming home to the Promised Land. Zionists, members of a pro-Jewish, pro-Jewish homeland political movement, were thrilled.

However, coming "home" to what in reality"? An arid land decimated by the fall of the Ottoman Empire, a largely hostile native population of mixed Arabs and Semitic Christians and Jews who never left Judea, a de facto British military protectorate, and a fragile safety zone where survivors of the Holocaust could scabble out a new beginning.

With financial backing from the Rothschilds and other very wealthy Jewish interests, especially support from Zionists who promoted and asserted unique Jewish prior rights to the ancient Capitol of Jerusalem and other ancient sites within the arbitrarily defined borders of "Israel", Zionism became a nationalist movement, in essence, a political party, and its members set their sites on creating an ever-expanding Jewish hegemony in the Middle East.

The 1948 "Arab- Israeli War" was, by definition, not a war, but a popular uprising having no lawful standing or legitimacy beyond that which is generally promoted by tooth and claw. Palestine at the time was more of a British idea promoted by the press than a factual living state, and Israel, to the extent that it existed, was a lease-hold based on more British meddling and usurpation.

The Israelis were and are opposed in this not only by Palestinians, but by multiple Muslim countries in the region, and as the World Court decision indicates, a growing international push-back opposed to the overwrought rapacious acts of genocide and wanton destruction that Israelis insist on inflicting on their neighbors.

It has long ago ceased to be an argument about Israel's right to exist and become an argument about Israel's right to genocide other nations, as it is presently doing in Gaza, Lebanon, and Syria.

Nobody likes the Israelis or their war-mongering excuse for a government. Indeed, they have become what they hate, embodying the Nazi spirit and ethos, complete with claims of racial superiority, denigration of women and minorities, disrespect for any standard of international law, and reckless enterprise.

They are, right now, in the process of murdering two million Palestinians and hundreds of thousands of Lebanese and Syrian victims on the pretext that these unarmed civilians pose a threat to their mini-empire, which is defended by billions of dollars-worth of the latest and greatest military technology provided to them by The United States --- whether we like it or not.

In the first forty days of Donald Trump's Second Administration, more than $16 Billion dollars worth of armaments were gifted to the Israeli state, and nobody can fathom why.

To encourage the madmen to unleash another wave of carpet bombing in Gaza?

To top off an arsenal that is already sufficient to blow up the world several times over in the name of Israeli "defense"?

All we see is Israeli offensive actions --- and gross overreaction to events that appear to be False Flags. The lady doth protest too much when Hamas has been paid to stage an attack and Israeli defense perimeters have been disabled by the Israelis to expedite it.

Hamas butchers killed approximately 1,100 civilians; the Israelis in return have killed hundreds of thousands and displaced millions and destroyed the entire infrastructure of the Gaza Strip. This wanton, gross overreaction has revealed the nature of the Israeli Beast that our support has created.

They have no conscience.

They no longer deserve our support.

Donald Trump quietly funnels billions more in aid to poor little Israel, which would rather pursue war, war, and more war, than feed its own widows, and goes on international news and says-- to paraphrase -- "Tsk, tsk! What a mess. We ought to clean this up and take advantage of the beach front development opportunities. The Palestinians who used to live here can go somewhere else."

He doesn't appear to realize how snarky this sounds, when they have been given precious little other choice and when it's their homes and their homeland that he is talking about.

How would it be, if we just drew a line around New York, carpet bombed it, and told Donald Trump that, "Well, everything's destroyed anyway, so we are going to build a giant 15 minute city where New York used to be, and the New Yorkers can all go somewhere else. We hear that Nevada still has plenty of empty space...."

The atrocity in Gaza only seems to take on form and meaning for Trump, when we put it on the other foot and give an example that is closer to home, and really, that shouldn't be necessary.

Grown men and women are supposed to be able to imagine how they would feel and how they would react if they were Palestinians and had this happen to them and to their homes.

Not think about new luxury spa hotels and profits to be made from maximizing the beach front potential.

The United Nations Organization, which is by far, not our favorite organization in the world, has nonetheless published good guidelines regarding the need to oppose genocide, in fact and in principle.

Those guidelines and international law require all member nations to oppose genocide by all means possible. They call upon each and every one of us to oppose genocide, yet in Britain people are being arrested merely for speaking out against what is going on in the Middle East, a violation of the most basic and traditional rights of the British people, and a tacit approval of the genocide in Gaza and in Lebanon from the British Government --- which created this whole problem in the first place.

Way to go, Monty. Again.

How about a little moral object lesson for Benjamin Netanyahu? What if we drew a line around Jerusalem and carpet bombed it into oblivion, and then said something like this, "Well, it was just a bunch of old houses and public buildings. The streets were too narrow and the plumbing was bad. Too many religious nutcases were fixated on it. We can clean it up and put in some casinos and make a ton of money, instead."

How do you feel now, Bibi?

Not so easy, when it's your tit in the wringer, is it?

Thanks to unquestioned support from "the US" and Britain, Israel has been allowed to act as not only a bully, but a murderous bully, terrorizing its neighbors and committing acts of genocide with no accountability.

The price we all pay for this is "eternal" war in the Middle East.

Not to mention the cost of billions of dollars worth of bombs and missiles and drones and all the rest of it, poured down Israel's war-mongering hole. Other than passing on mostly false "intelligence" gossip via Mossad, we can't think of a single thing that Israel does for us, and that's not worth $16B.

So far, Algeria and Yemen are the only countries that have stood up and done anything against the genocide committed by the Israeli Government, so apparently, they are the only ones that deserve any quarter or protection from genocide.

If we were aliens from another planet trying to account for this grotesque hypocrisy and failure of conscience, justice, and compassion, we could only conclude that a majority of the nations are ruled by lunatics, with no firm values or standards at all.

We call upon Mr. Trump and his Handlers in London to reflect on their responses thus far and think hard about what those responses reveal. If Britain, which caused the problem, and "the U.S." which is existing as a thrall nation of "U.S. Citizens" consigned to peonage by the British Crown-- not the Russians -- continue on in this fashion, they will have no moral standing at all.

We call for the immediate shunning of Israel and its government by all other nations; simply cut them off. Refuse to trade with them. Deny access to their diplomats. Avoid them like the pariahs they deserve to be. Just shake your heads and walk away. We no longer care what they suffered in World War II, if they continue to cause and promote similar atrocities today.

Mr. Trump, don't misrepresent our government by supporting Israel and Netanyahu in committing genocide and the Israeli equivalent of Apartheid; any more armaments you send that allow Israel to promote an offensive war in the Middle East had better come out of your private corporate stash and not be applied to our bill under the pretense that these expenditures are made in our defense.

We never approved of the Monroe Doctrine and we certainly don't approve of the role "the U.S." has played to date in the Middle East.
