Thought for the day for all of you who believe that gold is so valuable:

I will give anyone on Earth (unaided by Extraterrestrials and Spirits) the whole horde, who can build a living bird from scratch elements.

Just one bird.

I make this offer to demonstrate how stupid we have been and how misplaced our values still are.

Gold is not important. The True God, our Creator, is important.