

How to Deal with a Dysfunctional Media and Press Corps

By Anna Von Reitz

Recent attempts to let corporations --- Facebook, Twitter, etc. -- censor free speech have sparked much controversy.

As corporations they can set their company policies and ban things like "hate speech" --- however, as corporations receiving the benefits of bankruptcy protection and the "corporate veil" under our delegated authority (now returned to us) and as businesses making use of our public airwaves to deliver and sell their products --- not so much.

In fact, all segments and franchises of the Federal Government including Territorial and Municipal franchises --- are required to obey our Public Law -- which guarantees the right of Free Speech to all Americans.

Now all you have to do is stand up and reclaim your political status as an American and not a "US Citizen" ---- and tell President Trump that these yahoos are attempting to censor your Free Speech.

That's offense enough to justify liquidation of any corporation. Plus fines.

Remember that corporations can be organized and incorporated for any "lawful" purpose --- "lawful" not merely "legal". They have to honor our Public Law or get smashed flat as pancakes.

All President Trump has to do, is do it. In our behalf. Thank you, very much.

This comes on the heels of general discontent and disbelief with regard to the Mainstream Media. Everyone above the age of 14 knows that it is for-entertainment-purposes-only and that it is mostly anti-American screech, but few people know why.

(1) The Press has been under gag orders since WWII so they can't print any news that might in some way affect "national security".

That accounts for why all we hear about are car wrecks in Duluth and Kim Kardashian's latest nail polish.

The US Army in its utter brilliance has been defining us, their employers, as "the Enemy" and protecting us from ourselves by censoring everything down to cotton candy on one hand and running unlawful surveillance schemes against us through their agency contracts on the other.

If it weren't so stupid and at such cross-purposes, it would be funny, but as it is, we prefer to regard it as a stellar example of grotesque mis-management of manpower and resources.

(2) The Press organs are largely owned by six multi-national conglomerates that have no loyalty to this country and are run by foreigners.

We are about to start charging them for the use of our air waves and mandating standards that respect our right to free speech and open communications. And if they don't like it, they can sell out their interests in our communications industry to an American Company that will respect our rights and pay what they should for jamming our ears 24/7.

We could also bring anti-monopoly charges against the Six Little Piggies and bust them up like Ma Bell, forcing them to sell out and sell down so as to promote (and allow) competition and varied market sources.

The Army can establish its own standards for its own employees and keep their pert noses focused on their actual business, which is not promoting domestic political agendas here in this country or anywhere else. Our Constitution provides for them to "defend" us --- not dabble in big business, censorship, and fake Radio Free America crappola.

Please share this information with President Trump. He seems to be having difficulty with "The Press" --- without realizing that the American Press got sick in the 1930's, was finally murdered during World War II, and is still awaiting resurrection.

Most likely he doesn't realize that the U.S. Army has such a strangle-hold on the Press --- and that it is not entirely the fault of the Press that things are the way they are.

After all, it doesn't make much sense for us to blame the Press for failure to do its job, when it is being prevented from doing its job by an Army that isn't doing its job.

We give President Trump our free and full permission to begin anti-monopoly action against the Six Little Piggies --- the foreign multi-national media conglomerates clogging our airwaves with vacuous nonsense and sales ads and inappropriately slanted political screeds.

We give him our free and full permission to get the U.S. Army out of the censorship business and stop pretending that James Comey's personal welfare is a National Security issue. Instead, they can start protecting our right to Free Speech and clearing our airwaves. That is, after all, part of why we pay them.

We give him our free and full permission to lock down foreign media outlets and/or charge them high tariffs to operate in this country and to use our Executive Power to do so, without need for any reference to the Washington DC Municipal Charter and no permission from the Territorial "Congress" is required.

If the FCC doesn't like it, fire the whole lot of them. If the Territorial "Congress" complains, who cares?

If they want to sit around and be snarky and make fun of everyone but the in-crowd they need to pay through the nose until they bleed. If they want to push anti-American crap on our airwaves they need to be charged so much it puts them out of business. Period.

These are our airwaves. We can determine who gets the use of them or not and at what price. With or without the blessings of the Territorial Congress, and without the need for any special agency Nabobs. Again, thank you, very much.

And as for the National Press Club, the Journalism Schools at all the Public Universities, and the "American Press Corps" --- we encourage them to remember what their job is supposed to be, that editorials belong on the editorial page, not commingled with the news, that journalism is supposed to be a "noble calling" and not an excuse for political grandstanding, pandering, and payola-mongering.

If you are an American Journalist you owe it to yourself to resurrect The Fourth Estate in this country and reclaim your self-respect. And if you are not an American Journalist, what are you doing on our airwaves?
