

There Is No British Monarch

By Anna Von Reitz

I have pointed this out before, but it apparently needs to be repeated, written in bold, with an underline.

William the Conqueror made sure that the British Monarchy was forever doomed.

It does not exist now, and it hasn't existed since 1087 A.D.

This is the historical, actual, unavoidable fact --- despite nearly a thousand years of deceit and avoidance and ignorance of the masses.

There is no Queen. There is no Royal Family. It's all bogus with a capital "B" --- and quite beyond being a facile fraud, the purported British Monarchy has been used as a storefront for crime syndicates for the past 170 years.

Just like the Roman Catholic Church.

Just like the United Nations.

The authority and trust vested in these corrupt institutions has to be reviewed and the frauds and criminality exposed if we are to have a solid foundation for the future. We must be clear-eyed and determined about this, and give no loyalty where it is not due.

A collusion between elements in the Roman Catholic Church, disinherited Norman Princes, and Baal-worshipping Templars has resulted in the establishment of what can only be called an illegal, immoral, and illegitimate worldwide Raj.

What Gandhi fought in India, we must fight again. What was decided there and then, must be decided again.
