

Why the Offered Restitution Isn't Restitution -- No More Taxation, Period

By Anna Von Reitz

Many people have received word from various sources that their share of the spoils collected from the guilty foreign governmental services corporations is $13,200,000.00.

This is incorrect. It's actually a lot more. That's just part of the "restitution" owed.

If you and everyone else were to receive this so-called restitution payment as "Federal Reserve Notes" it would be worthless or be made worthless in short order, because of the hyperinflation induced by that much cash value hitting the economy all at once.

The guilty parties could stand back and say, "See, we repaid you!" --- worthless paper, that is, and then your own stupidity spending it like drunken sailors would render it even more worthless.

All that glitters is not gold.

The rest of their proposal stinks like an old outhouse, too.

A 14% "sales tax" on new purchases? What for? There is enough money in the remaining Slush Funds to fund every aspect of public spending forevermore. That's just a gratuitous charge to keep people believing in the "need" for taxation when there hasn't been any valid reason for taxation since 1941.

Enough already.

And while they pretend that they are implementing the NESARA that resulted from the efforts of General Roy Schwasinger (and my Mother, by the way) they are instead implementing the "substitute" proposal deceptively abbreviated the same way.

There are two (2) "NESARAs" --- the National Economic Security and Restoration Act is the actual NESARA, but there is also the National Economic Stabilization and Reform Act --- another doppelganger that they are trying to pass off the same way that they passed off "Confederate States" --- that is, states-of-states, for actual States of the Union.

The actual NESARA never included any taxation measures and doesn't provide for lump sum payouts of the kind these yahoos are trying to foist off.

So --- buyer beware. If you accept their offered $13,200,000.00 worth of paper, you sever your claim to your own land and home and names and other intellectual property, and allow them to settle their actual debt to you and yours for less than pennies on the dollar.

You and your children also tie yourselves to a 14% gratuity tax on everything you buy except "new purchases" --- the big problem is that they still get to define what is taxable and what isn't. They can redefine "new" and "non-essential" and pretty soon you will be giving them 14% of everything including income from selling land and gold and anything else.

Don't forget you are both Buyers and Sellers and any burden of tax collection or payment that you place on others also falls on you!

So, their version of "NESARA" just isn't good enough. It does nothing to return your stolen land and other property interests to you. It attempts to pay off debt owed to you with credit that is also owed to you.

It attempts to substitute a different "NESARA" for the one you are owed.

It guarantees the collapse of the Federal Reserve Note due to hyperinflation, which would make any "restitution" based on it worthless in short order. You'd be paying a million such "dollars" for a loaf of bread.

So, wise up, Campers, and don't take any wooden nickels from British Flim-Flam artists.
