

Political Parties v. Public Fiduciaries

By Anna Von Reitz

Our country's actual government depends upon a system of Public Fiduciaries who are bound to act according to The Prudent Man Standard--- meaning that what we do for the Public must be for the Public Good and must reflect decision-making and spending in the manner that a reasonably prudent man or woman would exercise when conducting their own business affairs.

County officials and State Officials are supposed to act as "Fiduciary Deputies" and members sent by the State to attend sessions of Congress are also obligated to act as Fiduciary Deputies. Members of Congressional Delegations are meant to be subject to recall: members of the House of Representatives are subject to direct recall by the people, and members of the Senate are subject to recall by the State Legislature.

That is our actual government. It is designed to seek the best deal and Public Good for everyone.

What we have had instead are Political Parties -- organized Political Lobbies representing special interests -- the Worker's Party, the Green Party, the Bull Moose Party, the Republican Party, the Democratic Party, the Independent Party and so on.

These people, misleadingly styling themselves as "representatives" are not functioning as Fiduciary Deputies committed to the Public Good and held to The Prudent Man Standard. These are professional lobbyists without any declared obligation or moral code. Once they were empowered to represent "voters" instead of "electors", they quickly removed the recall provisions for the Senators to be recalled, resulting in a situation wherein for six years, anyone elected to their Congress (which is different than our Congress) gets to do whatever they please without any threat of recall.

As a result, we've had a bizarre situation in this country, in which corporations in the business of providing governmental services, have been raiding the public purse for generations---providing whatever services, taking whatever actions, and charging "the rest of us" whatever prices they pleased. The only control valve on this unaccountable feeding frenzy has been opposition from the opposing political lobbies, who of course, have their own groupies to feed at the expense of everyone else.

There is no concept of the Public Good and no actual accountability in this foreign and unauthorized system which has been "acting in the name of" and passing itself off as our government.

We are meant to have a Confederation Congress, a Territorial Congress, and a Municipal Congress -- with one set of Delegates wearing three different hats, as they address the different functions of the Federal Government.

Things have not functioned properly since our Great-Grandfather's day, because the Reconstruction of the American Confederation was never completed after the Civil War.

We retain our Continental Congress, which is a separate Congress of the actual States of The United States of America [Federation], apart from the various flavors of "United States" Congress.

From time to time people ask me, in a state of bewilderment, what went wrong? What are we going to do?

Basically, the British Monarchs and the Popes acted in Breach of Trust and under conditions of secretive constructive fraud, to make us pay all their bills for them.

Now, they have provided us with services we agreed to receive from them, albeit, not always with the agreed-upon oversight---so, we do legitimately owe them for at least some of the services they have provided.

In the same token, they have usurped authority never granted to them and they have run amok on our shores and spent our money and resources and most of all, our credit, on a great many things never authorized. Our people and our States have suffered because of this, and they are still trying to weasel out of making amends and correcting their operations.

So we are assembling our States of the Union and exercising our Federation of States, The United States of America. As we continue on this road we will reconstruct the American States of States that are supposed to be providing us with the bulk of federal services, and things will fall back into place.

For the moment, we are holding the erstwhile foreign Service Providers feet first to the fire, and making sure that everyone knows that the Pope is ultimately responsible for both the Territorial and the Municipal Government.

The Pope is not able to fight against himself and interposing the British Monarch as the overseer of his Commonwealth interests is not sufficient to plead otherwise.

Read that: no "civil war" is possible-- because both sides of any such conflict are under the same ownership and always have been. Any pretense otherwise is just that --- pretense.

We have denied our Territorial and Municipal Service Providers any permission to stage any war of any kind on our land and soil; it is, instead, their explicit duty to protect us, our Persons, and our property interests.

And everyone worldwide can see that.

We are standing on the right side of the Law in all respects, while they, and especially the Pope, stand revealed for all the damage they have done here to innocent people to whom they owe good faith service. They have in fact attacked us in the name of protecting us. They have in fact enslaved us in the name of freedom and democracy.

It is, in the end, worldwide public opinion that rules the day; and, the world will judge them for the way they have treated us and for what they do now to either work with us to make amends, or work against us and try to justify their failure to perform their duty owed to the American States and People.

They either straighten up their operations here or everyone on Earth will know them as crooks and abject hypocrites unworthy of trust.

Now that you can see how this really rolls, what's missing, how things are supposed to be versus the way they are and have been for a long time, you can appreciate the need to take action.

If you were born within the borders of one of the fifty States, if you were born to American Parents abroad, or were officially Naturalized here, you can participate in the greatest revival and restoration in world history. Go to: www.TheAmericanStatesAssembly.net.

You can reclaim your birthright or natural right to adopt the political status of an American State National, and if you are over 21, you are cordially invited to fully participate in your State Assembly. There are jury pools to fill and public offices to be held, duties to fulfill and rights to be exercised.

The American States Assembly has been properly constituted of American State Citizens from the start, and no other organizations have been. We have the right political status, the right standing, and the right jurisdiction to hold our federal Service Providers to account, and their State of State franchise operators, too.

So if you are sick and tired of seeing your beloved country run amok by foreign interests that are supposed to be providing you with stipulated and enumerated government services, and if you are fed up with being harassed and bullied and misrepresented by your employees ---yes, it's time you woke up, got off your duff, and do what has to be done to restore your lawful government and correct this situation without further delay.
