High I.Q. Politician Totally Destroyed Woke Immigration Policies

This little mini-documentary is about Polish President Dominik Tarczynski, the only leader in the EU with the brains to stand up for his own country and ask simple, obvious questions, like---

Under international law, if there is a refugee crisis, the refugees are required to go to the nearest country and ask for asylum.

So, is Poland next to Syria or Iraq or Yemen or Lebanon? No.

Why isn't Saudi Arabia opening its borders to all these refugees?

It's a rich Muslim country within close distance of the homelands of all these refugees, but not one finger is raised to help them.

How about Qatar, or Kuwait? Again, rich Muslim countries that could afford to build housing and pay for their fellow-Muslims in distress, and they are close by where all these people naturally live.

Instead, European countries that have entirely different cultural and religious traditions are supposed to save millions of Muslim refugees?

Why?

What good are we doing for anyone, going about the problem like this?

All we are doing is borrowing the trouble and spreading it out in a larger geographic area, and making it worse.

It's great that Turkey and Egypt are welcoming them. They are Muslims in a Muslim country that way. Now, if the Saudis and some of the other oil-rich Muslim countries put their money where their mouths are and help support their own fellow-Muslims, it would be even better. There are all sorts of Muslim countries in the Middle East and Africa. Rich countries, lots of space for immigrants.

Why not go there? And why aren't these rich Muslim nations supporting the poor Muslim nations like Chad or Sudan, to take in these refugees?

Angela Merkel was mad, crazy, a complete insane lunatic. She didn't have the sense of a pigeon, yet, there she was, the leader of Germany, the most powerful industrialized nation in the EU. This is what you get when you elect stupid people to important positions.

Look at America with Joe Biden. Politics has become a career for fools in the West. Fools and crooks who aren't even smart about being crooked.

How can a country hope to survive if its people are stupid and they vote for other stupid people out of sympathy for them?

Hear all the Democratic Party candidates talk about how they failed at everything? They couldn't run a grocery store? They admit this, but they should run your country?

Think about this for a moment.....

They couldn't make it as a taxi cab driver, a locksmith, a school teacher, or a dancer? But these people, these failures at everything, should make decisions about your country's economy and your future?

Then you look around and you wake up and you say, "What's going on?"

And the guy next to you says, "I don't know, but this is crazy stuff going on...."

And you don't even know that it is because you have elected fools to run your country. Literally, people with low I.Q.s. People who can't read. People who can't think with any logic.

These same fools promise Mr. Zelensky billions of your dollars, then a huge catastrophic storm rips open the belly of your country, thousands dead, more thousands without homes, with winter coming.

Do they do the right thing? Do they tell Mr. Zelensky, "We're sorry, but we can't send you all that money. We have problems at home now."

No, they try to make it a thing of honor. They gave their word. So you, who paid for those dollars, have to suffer, for what? Their pride?

More useless politicians were never born.

And your useless media doesn't even report what's going on. You have to go find out for yourselves, while your government doesn't try to help.

There would be revolution in Poland. Revolution would happen tomorrow.

Nobody in Poland would put up with it. Why do you? Not a single Polish soldier would see his country abused, but your soldiers all stand there and do nothing?

They care more for their paycheck and the orders of fools?

What's wrong with you Americans? Don't you have eyes in your heads? Your country is being invaded, attacked from within. Your elections are a joke.

And Mrs. Harris, who pretends to be a black African, though her whole family comes from India ---- she's alright with reading a teleprompter. No need for a thought in her head.

Finally, some people in Michigan were rude to Mr. Obama. They ran him off the stage. They should have done that in 2008.

All these "dumb Pollock jokes" make the rounds, but Poland is the safest and most productive country in the EU right now and all the Polish people in America still know how to think.

They are on Youtube right now, teaching their neighbors how to can meat and preserve eggs for hard times that are coming to your country, because you are sending your money to Mr. Zelensky and letting fools represent you....

We can't add anything to that overall summation from the Polish point of view and even Ernest P. Worrell can see the sense in that.
