

Proof in Their Own Words

By Anna Von Reitz

If anyone wants proof that Bruce Doucette and Michael R. Hamilton have overstepped their offices and are now attempting to lead an insurrection against our lawful government, they only need to go to Hamilton's website and see for yourselves.

On his website with very slightly veiled efforts to call me a Vatican spy, after I have just handed the debts of the whole world to the Vatican to pay, he goes on to display the "Judge's Oath" that he and Bruce have cobbled up and are making people take.

Here is news for all to hear and see:

Each land jurisdiction state already has oaths and other standards and definitions of what a State Justice is in its Session Laws.

These men have been too ignorant and lazy to check the Session Laws for the land jurisdiction courts in their states, so they are not taking the lawful oaths required for their own state of the union and are off in LaLa Land, just as I said, with no lawful authority backing them at all.

Now, they may have crafted themselves a pretty, high-sounding oath compared to the plebian and plain-style oaths that American State Justices take, but what this means folks, is that these guys are renegades--- not just against the De Facto, but against the De Jure.

They are operating outside the lawful Government of the United States of America and outside the corporate Government of the United States, too.

Whatever "states" they are representing and claiming to hold office in, are just "states of mind". Theirs.

Well, that's all very fine if you are leading an insurrection or rebellion of some kind, but as I have very clearly stated---- what the rest of us came together to do is something quite different.

We want to restore our lawful government to full function and glory, not tear everything in site down to the ground and start over from scratch.

What these madmen need to learn also is something called "Chain of Title". We are owed our lawful government and nobody can take it from us, so long as we claim it and operate it----- but those agreements go out the window when we do what these yahoos are doing.

Suddenly, there is no connection back to the Revolution or The Constitution. Our states are---without chain of title --- just little squalling bits of land jurisdiction, free for the taking, and we are nameless, stateless chattel.

Maybe Bruce and Hamilton work for the men who would like to see America come to that? If they are dumb enough to think that they are American State Justices without taking the oath for their actual state, they aren't playing with a very full deck----are they?

See this article and over 400 others on Anna's website here:www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the PayPal button on this website.