

International Public Notice: For President Xi: a Puzzle Box

By Anna Von Reitz

The drug cartels have declared “war” (yet another mercenary conflict) — but why? The drug lords have announced it and the Health Ranger has reported on the situation developing in Southern Arizona, but initially, this news made no sense.

1. The “US” has been their best customer and the British Territorial United States of America, Incorporated, has smuggled their dope, guarded their poppy fields, invaded other countries at their behest— so why declare war, essentially, on yourself?
2. This is all the more curious and the leaked plan of their attacks-to-come in Arizona are made all that more bizarre when you consider that under the Biden-Harris Regime business for the cartels has never been better, access to the U.S. market has never been easier and certainly, the border has never been more open. So why a war, when they are rolling in clover?

No Cash Cow has ever been as well-fed as these drug cartels. They make more money with less overhead and less accountability than the oil sheiks and that is saying something.....so..... what’s the point of starting a firefight in Arizona of all places?

It’s not really about drugs. It’s about gold.

Unimaginable amounts of gold were left behind in the Grand Canyon by a prehistoric civilization of giant humanoids who used a system of writing similar to early Egyptian hieroglyphs. This was discovered by the Powell Expedition that explored the Grand Canyon early last century and was hushed up “for security reasons”. Even the existence of the “Mound People” has been suppressed and their ancient giant skeletons —though commonly found and photographed from the 1880s until shortly after World War One — have been made to vanish. Their last known resting place?

The Smithsonian.

And Jerome Powell is the Chairman of the Federal Reserve to this day.

The bulk of this treasure is in the form of ancient artifacts. These people used gold for art, utensils, and every other thing you can think of, so this is no treasury full of coins.

This is an entire underground city complex right in the vicinity of the fabled city of El Dorado.

There are enough solid gold artifacts to fill a dozen museums, and the bureaucrats are stuck in the endless argument of — what do we do? Tell the truth and preserve this history and the artifacts, or pretend these people never existed and melt the gold down into coinage and bullion?

The drug cartels figure that this vanished race can stay vanished and their gold can vanish, too, right into their own open pockets.

When they heard about this stash only a few miles over the U.S. Border they turned to their pals and co-workers in the U.S. Government — who told them about this City of Gold — and they cut a deal. The British Territorial Corporation doing business as the U.S.A., Inc, would finance the attack to seize the gold, and hire former UNITED STATES mercenaries to help the drug cartels carry off the loot.

The U.S.A., Inc., which is funding and planning and promoting all this, will then rouse itself to play the hero and (unsuccessfully) chase the thieves back over the border and claim victory.

The gold, of course, will never be mentioned.

They will send us the bill for their “service” —cleaning up a horrible criminal mess that they created for the sake of their own unjust enrichment.

And after declaring victory and patting themselves on the back and receiving the gratitude and adulation of the clueless public, they will pick up their share of the loot later, in Indonesia, where the stolen artifacts will be smelted down and Hallmarked as gold belonging to His Royal Majesty, King Charles the Third.

As usual, we could say, as ever, it’s the Brits at the bottom of the dogpile. And Bob’s your Uncle.

Who is harmed by all this? The clueless American Public, many members of which will be “collateral damage” in this attack staged within the borders of our homeland, and most especially, the American Natives, who are otherwise owed the artifacts as part of their cultural and ethnic heritage.

Native leaders are aware of this. They are already pondering how to build a museum to house the hoard and how to capitalize on it without the gross means of smelting the artifacts and putting new Hallmarks on it.

The way to think of this is as another False Flag like Pearl Harbor. The guilty parties will play the victims and make a ton of money fighting against innocent countries in South America— charging us every penny for their services, plus their share of the gold.

Win-win for them and lose-lose for us, all of us.

Because don't forget- it's our sons and daughters unwittingly serving as King Charles' underpaid and unvalued "Territorials", and we get no benefit from any of this. All we get is the death count and the bill.

So, wake up, World!

These are the games these criminals are playing and the only way to stop them is to shut down their banks, which keep shelling out our credit to them, long after we have told these same banks that we have been impersonated and defrauded.

But the banks are crooks and in on it, too. Cui bono? Where are these criminals going to deposit all that loot? And who, in the end, also benefits? The banks. The central banks, in particular.

And who runs the Bank for International Settlements, the WEF, the UN CORP, and WHO? All these terrible, meddling, arrogant, gluttonous entities are owned and operated by???

Why, ultimately, the Royal Institute for International Affairs.

And there you have the epicenter of the collusive evil that has gripped the world in its teeth; to be sure, the Brits have worked as lackeys for Rome, but when it comes to the light of day these crimes will have Britain's name all over them, and the sticky fingerprints will belong to King Charles III— if we allow this nonsense to beguile us and let the mainstream media misrepresent it as an "insurrection" or other ready-made narrative.

The narrative is always designed to make the villains look like the heroes, but don't be fooled.

For example, China was probably fooled into unleashing its weather warfare capabilities on us, by a few bought and paid for or otherwise gullible and compromised Chinese politicians.

They were probably shown convincing evidence that "the Americans" — actually, British Territorials — were preparing to blow up the Three Gorges Dam, so they made what they thought was a pre-emptive retaliatory strike on North Carolina and the other mineral-rich States, followed by profitable collusion with their friends running what's left of the defunct Municipal Government to condemn land in the disaster area and open it all up to strip mining.

Selling off our resources in this manner benefits the colluding Brits and Romans, doesn't benefit the Americans at all, but the Chinese will get the Lithium and Rare Earth Minerals and Silicon they need to keep their tech industries going.

And that, too, is what this is all about.

President Xi took the bait, colluded with HSBC, Bank of England, BIS, and the rest of the Usual Suspects, to kill thousands of the poorest people in America— people who didn't promote harming China in any way, people who were loyal customers of Chinese goods, who bought nearly everything they owned from Walmart.

So now, guilty, caught in the web, President Xi is preparing his military for war, and no doubt trying to excuse himself for this gross error in judgement by telling everyone that “we”— the “Americans” planned to blow the Three Gorges Dam and kill tens of millions of innocent Chinese— when we and the people he murdered protested this “Plan” laid out instead by the British Territorial “United States” Government —and forbade such genocidal action.

We, the Americans, have been the friends and customers of the Chinese. It was the Brits commandeering our Armed Forces who planned to blow up the Three Gorges Dam. And it was the Roman Curia standing in back of them egging them on.

It was the Brits in the Opium Wars, the Boxer Rebellion, the creation of Hong Kong, the international claims in the South China Sea....

What does it take before China and everyone else recognizes who the actual Bad Guys are?

Not a single real American, acting as an American, had anything to do with any of this evil that we are being blamed for and attacked over.

We've been the victims of these criminal British Crown Corporations and Roman Municipal Corporations like everyone else.

And what this amounts to is that when we denied them their Plan to blow up the Three Gorges Dam, they played President Xi like a violin and got him to “blow up” the three dams on the North Fork River in Western North Carolina, instead.

Hey, it caused less death and destruction than blowing up the Three Gorges Dam would have; they still got their heaping helping of death and destruction, didn't they? And they have their eyes on the profits from it, too.

Well, all of South America, these madmen have all the countries of South America in their sites. They will use the drug cartel / migrant invasion as an excuse. They will kill billions of innocent people on the pretext of wiping out the same drug cartels that are helping them to heist the gold from the Grand Canyon.

Then they will have all the gold, too.

And they plan to come out smelling like roses, playing the noble heroes all the way to the bank.

What we have to say about this is simple: wake to Hell up and address the root of all these problems— the Roman Curia and the British Crown and the Royal Institute of International Affairs— and its spin-offs: WEF, UN CORP, WHO, SERCO, BIS, IMF, and the rest of the Rotters.

You will notice that by impersonating their victims they always escape detection themselves. They pull all this crap and blame their victims every single time.

So now, as the result of these simple thoughts, President Xi needs to get his head screwed on and target the source of the Plan to blow up the Three Gorges Dam.

Here's a clue— that Plan wasn't created in or promoted by The United States.

And we don't deserve to be attacked or blamed for it.

If you are going to strike, strike the ones that have planned to harm your people and your economy and your infrastructure. Attack Rome. Attack the Inner City of London. Do yourselves and the rest of the world a favor.

Leave our gentle farmers and workmen alone.
