What I Think. Really.

What I said is that the Muslims have been misled and lied to about their own religious scriptures just as the Jews and the Christians have---- which is verifiable fact well-known to linguists competent to read the words of their Prophet in his original Aramaic language.

We have ALL been lied to and that has caused people to believe things and do things that are heinous. Does everyone think that the Inquisition was "Christian"? How about the Crusades? How about the Pogroms? Buchenwald? --- All done by Christians who were misled into committing horrifying crimes against helpless people and all strictly against the teachings of Jesus and against the Ten Commandments. It has all been papered over again and again with sophistry and excuses by people merely pretending to be Christians.

I tell you, I knew the truth, when I saw a priest look up at a life-sized crucifix and smile secretively. You see, you can look at the Crucifixion two ways. You can be appalled by the sacrifice and your own sins and be inspired to overcome them, or you can do what that priest did, and side with Lucifer and secretly mock the sacrifice of Jesus as a triumph for Satan.

In view of the widespread nature of this circumstance impacting all the major western religions what do you think? That otherwise trustworthy scholars all developed insanity at the same time and in the same way, and just "happened" to misrepresent and prevaricate about their own holy scriptures in exactly the same way---to promote hatred and violence and warfare and bloodshed and grudge-keeping and misery?

Or is this incredible common lack of honesty and precision of translation and omission of crucial text evidence of Satanists at work in all three western religions---deliberately subverting them and their scriptures over time, so as to promote hatred and warfare in the name of God? The same Satanists that profit themselves from selling arms to both sides of every war? The same Satanists who put on yarmulkas and pretend to be Jews, and who buy prayer rugs and bow to Mecca and pretend to be Muslims, the same ones who put on clerical collars and pretend to be Christian priests while they diddle little children?

Who do all these pundits think that Jesus was talking to and about when he ranted against "those who call themselves Jews but are not" and labeled them a "synagogue of Satan"----- that was literal, people. He was talking about Satanists pretending to be Jews. If they would pretend to be Jews, why not Muslims and Christians, too? Heaven knows, they couldn't come right out and practice their own dreadful child murdering "religion" could they?

I think were are all stupid, is what I think. I think the evidence of Satanic infiltration and manipulation of all three of the major western religions is beyond question, staring us all right in the face. And we are too dumb to figure it out. Just like we have been too stupid to realize that we are not "free" when we are taxed out of more than half our income and terrified of our own "government.

For the sake of sanity, everyone, globally------ wake up! Wake up! Remember Will Rogers--- "Don't believe anything you hear, and only half of what you see"? Take that to heart. Look with your own eyes. Read with your own eyes. Think with your own mind. Seek for the Truth like a miner, mining for gold, so that you are not treated as dumb, driven cattle led to slaughter and sacrifice for the sake of some despot's need to control and his greed for material things.

The Dead Sea Scrolls and the writings of the Apocrypha and many other ancient fragments and parchments have shown that much of what we took to be the "whole story" about the Old Testament and the New Testament was not so cut and dried and neither were the origins of the Greek texts underlying the New Testament. Current research more than suggests that the "Paul" of the Bible books was not the Apostle Paul of Tarsus, but Sa'ul also known as Paul, who was a contemporary of Saint Jerome merely writing "in the style" of the Apostle as commentaries and letters to his own congregants circa 330 A.D.

I have been told by linguists who are professional people I have no reason to distrust that the words of the Prophet are often distinctly different and sometimes completely opposite to what is taught in Mosques today, when you read the original text---- but modern Muslims don't read the original text. Just like Catholics who went to Mass for centuries and mumbled Latin phrases without any real knowledge of what was being said.

Wake up! Fire alarms are going off! Remember all those burning libraries? Alexandria, Rome, London, Istanbul, even in America during the War of 1812----- why do you think they always burn the libraries? To keep you stupid! To make sure you are ignorant and don't know your own history, much less anyone else's----- which makes you easily misled, so that you can be twisted into following their orders and believing whatever they want you to believe.

My reply to the nonsense -- that I am a "Muslim Apologist"? The men saying it are stupid. And dishonest. They didn't even bother to read what I wrote before they went off parroting this propaganda, so they are "tools", too, for someone else's agenda. My further reply is on my website. I think we all need to apologize to God for our asinine stupidity, cruelty, hypocrisy, and ingratitude. So I do apologize to God, for myself and for my fellows on this planet. We are all too dumb to appreciate or enjoy or value life or truth or anything worth having.

So in view of this idiocy and the hatred that it breeds, perhaps we do deserve to die. Perhaps the "elite" are correct that 80% of us should be wiped out in some dreadful war concocted out of lies and superstitions and ignorance just like the last two World Wars. Maybe they are right. Maybe we are in fact "too stupid to live", but while I breathe, I will stand like a lioness in the doorway and defend mankind and keep the faith that somehow, someday we will wake up out of our stupor, realize that we are all being conned and undermined by Satanists in our midst--- and do something practical about it. Like learning to recognize the problem for what it is. Like blaming those responsible, instead of blaming the victims.

---------------------------------------------
See this article and over 600 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com
To support this work look for the PayPal button on this website.