

Call Out to Rhode Island!

From Anna Von Reitz

In case you missed it, The United States of America [Unincorporated] has put out the call for the member States of the Federation to assemble.

There is urgent business to attend to, and Rhode Island is the only State that still has not heard and heeded.

We need you, Rhode Island. Everyone else, all forty-nine other states of the Union, are already on the move.

We realize that many, many years have passed since the last time this kind of assembly has been called and that many people are still waking up to the issues and necessities which now obligate us to act.

If anyone reading this has friends, family, or property in Rhode Island, it's time to raise the flag and assemble the people.

Please go to <https://national-assembly.net/> or directly contact contentmanager1@yahoo.com and use your County and State as the subject line to get connected to the National Assembly being organized now.
