

So Long, Farewell, Auf Wiedersehen, Good-Night....

By Anna Von Reitz

Isn't it heart-warming to see all these Woke Persons keeping their word and taking action in response to Trump's Election?

There's a mass Exodus going on, even if some of them think that moving to Hawaii is far enough.

Millions of people are on the move, trying to unload grossly overvalued real estate at the top of the market (good luck with that), trying to avoid the Joe Biden-sponsored Capital Gains Tax that goes into effect next year (the Corps intend to take 30-70% of your bequests and your heir's inheritances, beginning next year --- if they can keep their heads and get away with it.) and generally, fleeing before "The Storm".

Some people are comparing this to the last migration of Jews from Europe in 1939. More cogent images involve rats racing down ratlines to the docks and cockroaches scattering into the dark.

Many of the celebrities who have hated Trump for no very apparent reason, are packing their Gucci handbags and leaving.

Have you looked at the Housing Market in Florida lately? Or worse, New York City? Washington, DC???

These places are already depopulated or depopulating. Half of the population is gone and more are making tracks. Just stand on a bridge or at an airport and watch them go, go, go. They've been on the move for several years, but the wagon trains really started moving after Trump's election.

The blogs and newspots are full of ugly women swearing that they won't have sex for the next four years.

Good for them! Good for everyone, even their husbands and boyfriends. The Eugenists from here to Amsterdam are cheering. Abortions are already down, welfare expenses declining.

What's not to like?

Millions of Americans are taking the plunge and leaving the Democratic Party in disgust.

Fears of a One Party political system abound, but only among those who don't realize that that day has already come.

Even the Woke are vaguely offended that Joe Biden gave his son a free pass and abused his powers of office in conflict of interest ----- but that's no surprise to the rest of us.

We remember Joe abusing his position as VP, bragging about having a Ukrainian Prosecutor fired and leveraging aid to Ukraine to do it.

Scum is what scum does. Without jail sentences or hangings to discourage such behavior, it continues with alarming consistency.

Like all the shoplifters in California. When we lose our minds and allow criminal behavior, and people --- like Joe --- get away with it, what do we expect?

We expect a backlash of major proportions.

Against Joe. Against Democrats. Against Bureaucrats. Against Corporations. Against criminality of all kinds, in general. We expect "payback" for the last four years, but not necessarily from Donald Trump or his Administration.

We expect the backlash to come from the American people themselves, as they realize what has been done to them and to their country by these criminals in suits.

We expect coalitions of patriot groups to form as education progresses and similar coalitions of health and human rights groups, all gathering steam and releasing research and bringing lawsuits and pushing total reform of the justice and legislative systems and government bureaucracies in general.

We expect massive boycotts of the mass media and burgeoning public awareness of malfeasance on the part of bought-off news organizations, along with a total collapse of public trust in the military and the "health" professionals and the bought-off scientific community that has pushed human-caused global warming and depopulation hysteria and worst of all, the phony pandemic.

People aren't going to believe the lies anymore, and it won't matter how much money the moghuls pour into their propaganda and sales campaigns. People are not going to believe every word that proceeds from "the government" mouths anymore, and they will inevitably come to realize that what has been masquerading as our government, is a foreign corporation in the business of providing government services instead.

We expect action taking vengeance in the form of court actions, including massive class actions, impeachments, recall elections, investigations, bombshell news headlines from homegrown journalists, together with complete reform of editorial policies and media ownership interests as people like Elon Musk catch the wave and start buying up and rebranding everything from social networking websites to local newspapers.

We expect total reform of banking, too. It's long overdue and richly deserved. Various paths forward have already been proposed and rejected. No to Federal Reserve Notes. No to United States Notes. Forget Notes altogether. No to "Special Drawing Rights". No to Central Bank Digital Currencies. No, ultimately, to Crypto Currencies. No, ultimately, to Central Banks as well.

The smarter people among us are already moving to not only decentralized health, but decentralized banking, and decentralized government --- which makes "decentralized" the popular up-and-coming buzzword describing what consumers, voters, and everyone with a brain wants.

However, we also expect that the wordsmiths who have already caused miscommunication and misrepresentation on epic scales before, will to try to redefine "decentralized" to mean "centralized" instead, and for various Masters of Deceit to be turning cartwheels in their attempts to grab the horns of the Decentralized Everything Movement and drag it in the opposite direction.

Don't let them get away with it. What's true is true, and the truth is, that we and many other countries have been ruled over and defrauded and enslaved by Flim Flam Artists.

Now that we know that, this is the time to wise up and take action and not be deceived anymore.

Good-bye to the hundreds of useless and often harmful "Government Agencies" which have been used as subcontractors of our subcontractors. (Our Subcontractors hired their own subcontractors at our expense to do their work and take the blame for them.)

Good-bye to the thousands of Blue Ribbon Committees, Councils, Bureaus, and Commissions that have been quietly siphoning off billions of dollars in payola every year.

Good-bye to the endlessly crooked and self-serving "Federal Reserve".

Good-bye to the Private Health Sector promoting Snake Oil and disease-for-profit ---and draining us dry and harming our health in the process.

Good-bye to the crooked Justice System that provides anything and everything but justice.

Good-bye to our sons and daughters being used as unwitting cheap mercenaries who never really get paid for their services.

Good-bye to uncontrolled crooked dishonorable "service corporations" running wild with our credit cards. And the banks that let them do it.

Good-bye to all the deceit, usurpation, and self-service that has been the hallmark of everything that has gone on in this country ever since the so-called Civil War.

It's ending, now, and you are here to make sure that it ends and that the Perpetrators are not enabled to grab the brass ring again.
