

A Donation and Something More Precious Than Gold --- Thank You!

By Anna Von Reitz

I was recently interviewed and will be making that link available. In the interview I was asked honestly and frankly --- how do I demonstrate to people who are totally asleep that what I am telling them is true? That I am not just a nutcase?

This was reasonable to ask and I immediately thought back over the long, long process that brought us here and the "pivot moments" when I knew for sure.

There was that sick, sinking feeling in the IRS Office, when they refused to sign off in writing on what they had told me verbally.

There was the similar sick moment when I got out my magnifying glass and looked at what appeared to be the signature line on my "personal" checks and saw that it was a line of micro-print endlessly repeating "Authorized Signature" and wondered why it was there and why was it so tiny?

There was the stupefying moment when I realized that: (1) there was no Declaration of War related to the so-called American Civil War, and (2) equally stunning, no Peace Treaty ending it.

There was the moment when the Congressional Research Office replied that yes, I was correct, the bulk of the Reconstruction Acts were still in full force and effect. Never repealed.

There was the moment when..... on and on.

Both according to the things that were there and equally, the things that weren't in the Public Record---- inexorably, the story that I am telling you was told to me--- not in some free-flowing narrative, but fact by fact.

That fact by fact narrative is still standing there for all of you to see for yourselves and I cherish all who make the effort to do the research and see it for themselves.

To be honest, I was caught somewhat flat-footed in the interview and just grabbed some of the most obvious things to direct attention to.

Yet, today, in the mail, I received a donation and an Atta-girl that answered the question far better than I did, an answer that is literally more precious than the "gold" that came with it.

It's very brief and I will quote:

1. "Inhabitants" = loyal to the King [George III] 1783 Treaty of Versailles, about fishing rights: people = sovereigns & inhabitants = loyal to the King.

2. Northwest Ordinance also supports this in that people had a different requirement to meet to be able to vote/elect than the "inhabitants".

3. Rule of Law = Commercial Law, according to John Codman Hurd, Counselor-at-Law, The Law of Freedom and Bondage in the United States, 1858.

These and other references including the The Definitive Treaty of Peace, Paris, 1783, leave no doubt that there are two populations on this Continent and always have been.

As The Definitive Treaty of Peace describes these two populations -- we have the "free, sovereign, and independent people" and the "inhabitants" --- British officials left behind after The Revolution to provide "essential government services" --- as later described in Article IV of the Territorial Constitution.

So, if I am "crazy" and don't know what I am talking about why weren't you taught these facts --- any of them --- in school?

It's simple.

Criminals in Britain (includes Scotland), France, Luxembourg, Switzerland, and Italy were intent on defrauding you and hooking you into paying their debts and "voluntarily" enslaving yourself for their benefit through ignorance of language, ignorance of history, ignorance of public finance, and plain old ignorance, full stop.

These vicious criminals deliberately made sure that unless you educated yourself by reading dusty old treaties and moldy law books, you would never know that there are two populations here, and would not be enabled to easily discern which population you naturally belong to.

The same criminals were busy falsifying all the public records related to you and your name, so as to build an alibi for themselves and their grotesque mistreatment of their hosts and employers. Theirs is a criminal Breach of Trust, carried out over the course of decades against an innocent unarmed civilian population.

No shame is deep enough for them.

Our only crime was to employ them and trust them to do their jobs. We should have kept hob-nailed boots on their necks and an army of Forensic Auditors on their tails

This is the reason you have been taught to parrot things like the "Pledge of Allegiance" --- a veiled feudal "pledge" to the British Monarch --- and to unthinkingly identify yourself as a "US Citizen" without asking --- which United States?

This is why you were never told to record the names and parentage of your children with the land recording office as soon as they were born.

The sympathizers and collaborators of these criminals on this side of the Atlantic played their role, too, pretending to be loyal Americans to the Public, while taking in the European Payola and pillaging us for their masters in Edinburgh, Whitehall, and the Hague.

Bankers, politicians, members of the Bar --- and even some ranking members of the American military colluded against our lawful government beginning in 1860. And they progressively, deliberately played this long charade for all it was worth, false taxation, false regulation, false arrests, false imprisonment, phony "wars", fraud, fraud, and more fraud and all accomplished under Color of Law.

So what are we going to do about it?

I can tell you this much --- anyone who wants to speak to me about "The Rule of Law" had better be prepared to have it stuffed down their throats, sideways. And "Lucifer" better run.

Our Living Law Firm is The Lion in the Door. Our Counselors-at-Law are doing battle every day. Our bankers are in the fire fight. Our friends are answering the call. We are in it for the duration and determined to end this criminality once and for all.
