

So You Know

By Anna Von Reitz

Faced with the immense amount of data on hundreds of countries that is now becoming available, most people are overwhelmed and can't quite comprehend the devastating effect of the Covid 19 "vaccine" program.

So let's just focus on one country, the Philippines, a largely friendly and familiar country which has been depopulated by both euphemistic "excess death" and fewer births.

Let's also bear in mind that most western countries have been in population decline since WWII and have not even replaced their prior population.

We are reposting excerpts from an article by "Super Sally" Clark whose reporting on Filipino affairs and analysis of financial and social trends in the Philippines is top notch:

We hope that more Americans will become aware and become concerned about what is happening in the rest of the world.

It isn't that we don't have enough of our own to worry about and it isn't that we want to borrow trouble, but by becoming aware of the sufferings of others, we are better able to see the impact of horrendous USA, INC. "public policies" not only on us, but on everyone else, too.
