

Remember --- You Are Obligated, by Law, to Speak Up

By Anna Von Reitz

Just a quick reminder to everyone --- when you witness crimes or have reasonable cause to know about them, you are required to speak up.

This means that if you become aware of treasonous or other unlawful activity pursued by any part of or agent of government, you are required to go straight to your Sheriff, your Governor, your State Attorney General, or Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court, and report it.

You must do this, or you become an accomplice to the crime.

There has been considerable discussion arguing for and against serving Notice on the corporation-employed Sheriffs. People are afraid of the consequences of speaking up.

Better to fear the consequences of not telling.

Granna

See this article and over 5100 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the Donate button on this website.