

What Goes On in Hell Stays in Hell.

From James C. Belcher

We are weary of explaining this to everyone, including Kirk Pendergass, but it's simple enough.

What happens in Spain among Spaniards has nothing to do with us.

What goes on aboard a foreign ship at sea and under a Captain's Command, has nothing to do with us.

As I have explained before, there is no way in Hell that the U.S. Military can "restore" our Republic, because they have no standing and no granted authority to do so.

They can say they are doing it or have done it, but that is just nonsense. Their experts at Quantico know it's nonsense, because they know the difference between the two international jurisdictions of land and sea.

If anyone is advising Trump any differently they are doing so in either (1) ignorance or (2) treachery. Like Jerome Adams, former U.S. Surgeon General.

Everyone promoting this:

needs to stop before it comes back and bites them in the $#@%. \

The military is subject to our "foreign" civilian authority, because of the way the Constitutions were set up from Day One, and despite all their attempts to change and evade facts and ignore us and ignore the Truth, this is still the way things are set up, because fraud nullifies everything tainted by it.

And everything from 1860 onward has been tainted by Lincoln's fraud.

We, the People of this country, don't inhabit the jurisdiction of the sea in the accomplishment of our General Government. Never have.

They, the Persons, are trapped in the jurisdiction of the sea by their own acts and volition, and remain there until they wake up and come home.

It's only when they come home to the land and soil jurisdictions that they have any power to serve as deputies, delegates, or representatives of any kind related to the land jurisdiction.

So even if they have the best intentions in the world, it's all for naught.

They destroyed the land and soil jurisdictions (for themselves) when they went to sea; they cannot come back and recreate the land and soil jurisdictions for themselves without being Transgressors.

This is true under the Ecclesiastical Law, The Law of Nations, the Geneva Conventions, and the Hague Conventions. Any attempt they make to come ashore against our wishes is piracy and treason.

In effect, the British Territorial U.S. Government which exists (with respect to us) as a Foreign Subcontractor, is offering to reconstruct our government "for" us, when they have no granted authority to do so.

The end result would be another Substitution Scheme, substituting their government for ours, and an Act of War by the British Empire against the sovereign States of the Union.

The so-called British Empire has enough on its plate without provoking an all-out rebellion in The United States. Every loyal American in this country would be obligated by law and custom to join forces to oust any British Expeditionary Force attempting to occupy our Federal Republic or offering to substitute "a" Federal Republic of their own making for ours.

Now is this clear enough for Kirk and Company and Donald Trump and everyone else who needs to read this?

The international jurisdiction of the sea (Hell) is not allowed to lap over onto the international jurisdiction of the land (Purgatory), and if any such thing is offered it must be refused in no uncertain terms.

Here is that refusal: Neither the British Territorial Government nor any corporation in its registry or employ may come ashore under False Pretense of reconstructing our Federal Republic and trying to pass off its version of "a" Federal Republic for the American Federal Republic we are owed.
