

For Those Behind the Curve of Technological Advances

By Anna Von Reitz

This video by Jim Willie delves briefly into the array of scalar technologies that are now developed and operational.

Many people will be shocked and some may not believe him, but he is telling the truth about these technologies and the strange new capabilities that they give to out-of-control defense industry contractors and even to commercial corporations which then deploy them for their own commercial protection and gain.

Take the time to listen and think. Then look around and connect the dots.
