

International Public Notice -- The Tin Hats Win Again

By Anna Von Reitz

They were right. They were always right, and they were right to be concerned, too.

Obama wasn't born in this country and therefore could not meet one of the primary requirements to serve as President of the United States. He was born in Kenya, as many knowledgeable people, including members of his own family said. That has now been proven.

But now we get down to the nitty-gritty of the Great Fraud and the multiple deceptions revolving around, "Which United States?"

Option 1: There is "the United States" related to our original American Federal Republic, and it's doing-business-as name from 1787 to 1861 --- which was unlawfully and immorally latched upon by the British Territorial U.S. Congress on February 2nd 1871, and which they have been misrepresenting ever since.

Option 2: There is "the United States" related to the Municipal Government operated as a Holy Roman Empire Municipal Corporation.

Never mind that when people the world over say "United States" they are all thinking of The United States, the actual country.

While there is little doubt that Obama was operating under Option 1, as his Predecessors have done, is it still a crime?

We would argue, yes, it is a crime of state and a crime of fraud.

The action undertaken by the British Territorial Government operating as the U.S. Congress in 1871 was self-interested and lacked Due Notice and Due Process owed to the actual Owners of the Federal Republic. They deliberately covered up changes that occurred during and after the commercial Mercenary Conflict that they also misrepresented as a "War" --- The American Civil War.

As a result of that and undeserved prosecution of our American States and American Federation Officers to whom they owed "good faith service", they have been operating our Federal Republic and using its doing-business-as name, "the United States" as if it was their rightful property and as if they had the right to fill the Office of the Federal Republic's President, too.

As the British Territorial U.S. Congress made their vacuous claim on abandonment in 1871, they became the apparent owners and ran this version of "the United States" and the associated Presidential Office under False Pretenses.

They were actually operating as "the United States of America, Incorporated" or as "The United States of America, Incorporated" and their actual Presidents were operating as Presidents of the United States of America, Incorporated, and as "Commanders in Chief" while also occupying the stolen office of "President of the United States".

As the President of the United States of America, Incorporated, (either version) they were never obligated to be natural born in this country.

As their version of "United States" was owned and operated as a wholly owned subsidiary of the United States of America, Inc., they just pressed the issue in the case of Obama, and bypassed that old-fashioned requirement that the President of the United States ---whichever one it was --- had to be born in this country.

The bottom line to all of this is that the American people were purposefully deceived and lied to, under color of law. Even the nature of the political party elections were obscured and misrepresented as if these straw polls were the equivalent to our public elections.

Not only the Republic, but the republican form of government underlying it were thoroughly misrepresented and suborned and commandeered by the usurping British Territorial Subcontractors.

Thus, Barack Hussein Obama, was never our President.

He was never elected by any public election process. The nature of his office was obscured from the electorate, but the American People knew that something was wrong. So they kept digging.

And there it is, posted above, proof that Barack Hussein Obama could not qualify as the actual President and was not elected by a public election.

Does that change anything?

As "President" of a British Crown Commercial Services Corporation calling itself "the United States of America" Incorporated, or, "The United States of America, Incorporated" no "natural born" requirements apply.
