

Exactly Why the Trump Administration Needs to Cooperate

By Anna Von Reitz

Frankly, everyone hates the United States. A lot of people claim to hate "America" but what they are talking about is always the United States, instead. This is a misunderstanding that needs to be cleared up.

"America" and the "United States" are two completely different things.

They are foreign with respect to each other and always have been. America is the fifty republican states of the Union: Oregon, Idaho, Florida.... The United States/UNITED STATES is fifty-seven "States of States"--- corporate franchises of foreign Territorial and Municipal corporations: State of Idaho and STATE OF IDAHO, for instance.

It's the United States/UNITED STATES that has raped and burned and pillaged and polluted and rampaged all over the Earth. The clueless Americans have been duped into believing these foreign corporations were their own dear lawful government.

Now that they know that the thing is Washington, DC, is just a "government for hire" operation, and they perceive that they have been duped and used and abused and cheated and plundered and imposed upon by the same corporations that have been doing it to the rest of the world, the Americans have cause to hate the United States, too.

With the Americans on one side and the outraged rest of the world on the other, what's the United States to do?

The perps have tried to move their base of operations to China, but that isn't working out so well for them. Nobody who wants to gain weight eats a tapeworm.

These so-called "Federal Corporations" still have a lot of power, but it is all power they either stole or borrowed or defrauded from the American states and people that they have claimed to represent and serve. Without the Americans backing them, they dwindle down to nothing but wind. Even Puerto Rico won't try to find the best part of them.

This, politically, and a hopelessly corrupt government bookkeeping system, is what President Donald J. Trump is faced with.

Anyone looking to him to help them drain their local swamps will be sadly disappointed. Instead, he needs our help to drain his swamp in Washington, DC.

And that is why he needs to cooperate fully with the restoration of the American land jurisdiction states and expedite the return of Americans to their native political status and encourage the restoration of the American Common Law courts and accept the use of our asset-backed monetary system--- because without our help and support, the so-called Federal Government doesn't have a prayer.

See this article and over 500 others on Anna's website here:www.annavonreitz.com
To support this work look for the PayPal button on this website.