

International Public Notice: The Truth About Our Elections

By Anna Von Reitz

We have told you that our elections always take place in March, not November, and the change of Presidencies --- signaled by their "Inauguration" -- also known by the religious term, "investiture", also takes place in March.

That may have struck an odd chord. You may have scratched your ears and thought, "March? Really? How odd! Why would you begin a new Election Cycle and inaugurate Presidents in March?"

Obviously, the spring is the season of new beginnings and the rightful and natural time for new leadership and new initiatives, too.

There is a logic to it, and an alignment with the natural world.

Our revelation about the timing of American elections may have jangled your ear buds a bit, sticking up like a sore thumb in the sea of your indoctrination, an oddity, something that didn't quite fit, but it probably didn't cause you to dig deeper or think a great deal about it.

Dissonant, but important information, tends to bounce off the first few times you hear it.

A very few of you may have bothered to inquire --- if March is the traditional and customary month for American elections and new Presidents, when did it change to November?

Answer: it changed when everything else did, with the Lincoln Administration.

As to why did all this change? --- it was imposed on us by the Brits commandeering our government and even more so by the Roman Federal Subcontractors, the Holy Roman Empire.

It follows that all the election hype now choking the airwaves and demanding the attention of everyone on Earth is fraudulent.

Mr. Trump and Mrs. Harris are vying for a private corporate office -- the "presidency" of a British Territorial corporation, exactly akin to the "presidency" of General Motors, Inc., and not any American Public Office at all.

If it were an American Presidency, the election would be occurring in March or prior to March with the inauguration taking place in March, not January.

Julius Caesar created the 12 month solar calendar of the Roman Empire to better facilitate military command and control functions by standardizing units of time in 45 BC.

The natural calendar based on the 13 monthly cycles of the moon was discarded by the Romans at that point, and they have sought to impose their system on everyone else ever since, for the sake of their precious regimented and regulated Empire.

The Roman solar calendar has been tinkered with to create Military Time Clocks and other spin-off systems but except for us knotheaded Americans, all the European governments and their colonial and commonwealth organizations were converted to the Roman Calendar by the 1600s.

This change, though pagan Roman in origin, was forced on us all by the Roman Catholic Church which embraced the pagan solar calendar of Rome in preference to the 13 month Hebrew calendar.

The actual British people followed The Old Ways and the Old Calendar despite the Romans and they remain the chief keepers of the Old Calendar today, so we may be sure of the source of this change in 45 BC and we can be sure about who imposed it on us today --- the Holy Roman Empire, which in collusion with its British adherents and henchmen, took over our government by fraud and deceit in 1860.

Simply by the fact that our elections take place in March and their elections take place in November, it should occur to someone, somewhere, that they are not us and we are not them.

The glories of Rome did not inordinately impress our Forefathers, who saw the Roman Empire as a cesspit of intrigue, deceit, and immorality, and the Empire itself as a purveyor of slavery.

Rome has always thrived on slavery and depends on slavery of one kind or another as its financial and political lifeblood, so it is no mistake that our Holy Roman Empire Federal Subcontractors fought on the side of the South in the so-called American Civil War.

Slavery -- economic and otherwise, was always Rome's bread and butter, so it is also no mistake, either, that our American leaders who aspired to free humanity, were at odds with Rome and with their calendar.

So where is the proof of all that? The dates of the inauguration of all Presidents up until the Lincoln Administration.

And any copy you can find of a 1775 or earlier Bible; and many other Bibles up until the 1840s, which continue to show the proper first day of the week and the thirteen month calendar---- will further confirm what we are telling you.

Here's an example: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=r8g3OaJ5FmE>

Last, it should not be lost on Observers, that our Forefathers gave very short shrift to the Holy Roman Empire Federal Subcontractors; they were given control of the Post Office functions and few other meaty scraps, but played no other significant role in our government functions.

They were specifically limited to conduct their business in a small space circumscribed within the Capitol Hill Boundary Stones in the District of Columbia, with the District itself and the City of Washington serving as a buffer between the Romans and the rest of us.

This is how toxic our ancestors considered Rome and everything to do with Rome, quite apart from any antipathy the largely Protestant population had, additionally, to the Roman Catholic Church.

Our Forefathers considered the British Monarchs to be the running dogs of the Roman Catholic Church and the Roman Catholic Church to be the running dogs of Rome.

We could try to prove them wrong, but would fail, because that is precisely what the historical record shows: Rome manipulating and using the Roman Catholic Church as a storefront from the Council of Nicea to today, and the Popes acting in collusion with British Monarchs that they crowned and controlled --- and still control today.

What about King Henry VIII? The self-proclaimed head of the Protestant Church of England?

A more venal, gluttonous, and immoral man has seldom lived than King Henry the VIIIth; under the gun of Excommunication, he brokered a deal with the then-Pope to give the Pope the souls of all Catholics baptized in his realm (meaning their labor, inventions, and other energetic and intellectual resources) and a 60/40 split on all the Protestant souls baptized in his realm.

What could the poor man do, given the fact that he literally owed his crown to the Pope? And would probably be beheaded if his Anglican supporters found out about half of his perversions?

We can demonstrate this same 60/40 split coming off of all baptismal certificates ---- and all birth certificates ---- to this day.

Then as now, the British Monarchs have served as the handmaidens of the Pope, whether Catholic or Protestant; and the Popes have served as the handmaids of Rome.

King Charles III, who was recently crowned as a [Roman] Emperor, instead of an English King or British Monarch, either one, is following in the footsteps of another King Charles who executed the shift from a land jurisdiction King to a sea jurisdiction Monarch, just as they are now trying to secretly shift gears (and forms of law) from Monarch to Emperor.

Charles himself presumably doesn't have anything to say about this switcheroo, as he is indebted to and in the thrall of the Roman Curia and the Pope, who gave him his crown and who can take it away, too.

So while we have tracked all the malevolent insanity and its implementation back to the Royal Institute of International Affairs and SERCO, Inc., the true heart of the darkness resides in Rome, and within the Roman Curia, which hides behind the skirts of the Roman Catholic Church, as a matter of convenience.

The Bible literally tells us that the Devil actually lives in Geneva, Switzerland. According to witnesses, it --- we won't describe the Devil as "he" --- has taken up residence in Vatican City in recent years, where the Spirit of Falsehood has been given asylum.

From there, this interloper has been following "the War Scroll" to wage war against humanity. For more insight into the War Scroll:

So the answer both to the Elections and the whole situation, is to exercise our customs and traditions, our public offices, and our truth.

The Sons of Light triumph, as Gregg Braden said in the video interview above, they don't win.

What we triumph over is our own ignorance and alienation, and what we win is our freedom. The Truth is what sets us free. Our connection to divinity --- and our love --- is what attunes us to the Truth.

The recent cowardly "vaccine" attack on our DNA, which is the fractal antenna that connects us to the Divine, has attempted to substitute a man-made self-assembling nano antenna to overpower our natural DNA antenna, to sever our natural connection to God and to suppress the divinity within us, in order to create a new subspecies, the so-called Transhumans.

The Perpetrators of this crime against humanity have failed and will reap their just reward. May it come sooner rather than later.

Remember: "Neither life nor death shall ever from the Lord his children sever."

Those who have done this will wish that they were never born.

Those who continue to promote these phony corporate elections as substitutes for our public elections won't be far behind them.
