

A Letter to the People of the British Isles -- From Everyone Else Everywhere

By Anna Von Reitz

We've said some harsh things about your government in recent days and you may be feeling a bit "off" about it and as if you are being beaten about the head and ears when you've already borne about all that you can take.

What we want to say is that we love you and we always have and we always will, but we can't stand your government.

Your government is always --- literally always--- at the bottom of every stinking deal, every political faux pas, every act of aggression. Always. And we here in America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Africa, India, Mainland Europe and just about anywhere on the planet have suffered for it.

Perhaps more to the point, so have you. The same crazy, Hell-bent, war-mongering, profit-mad British Government has done as much and more damage to all of you.

Before they sold us out, they sold you out.

This entire "enfranchisement" scheme by which the government seizes title to your name and estate for its own use and conveniently declares you "missing, presumed dead" began in the wake of the Great Fire in London with the Cestui Que Vie Act of 1666.

The government discovered that it could glom onto private property if the owners were "dead, presumed missing" --- and profit itself from their property as long as the victims and their relatives failed to show up and reclaim their assets.

So, when Queen Victoria lost Prince Albert and her moral compass along with him, she listened to Benjamin D'Israeli instead of William Gladstone, and initiated the modern day plague of enslavement via secretive corporate "enfranchisement".

Under this version of the Cestui Que Vie scam, the government seizes title to your name and estate, declares you "dead, presumed missing" --- and doesn't bother to tell you a thing about it--- so neither you nor your relatives can ever come forward and reclaim your assets.

As a Mafiosi Godfather who befriended me and shielded me in my youth once observed, "What's the one contract you can't break?" He smiled and continued--- "The one you don't know exists!"

And that is precisely where we -- until recently -- and all of you, are.

You are laboring under a contract that was never disclosed to you, and as a result, you have been deprived of all your assets, even your Good Name, and all the other rights owed to you by the same government responsible for this criminality.

Also as a result, they have become richer and richer as you have become poorer and poorer. There are places in Britain that pay six levels of taxes-- six (6) different "titles" have been taken by layers upon layers of government to everything you think you own.

Still wondering why you can't make ends meet anymore and so many of you are losing your homes to the banks?

This is because the same government that seized upon your name and estate and which declared you "missing, presumed dead" without telling you a word about their actions has been busily "hypothecating" debt against your name and estate.

Like everything else related to these practices the process of hypothecation reeks of fraud. It allows the perpetrators to indebt your assets without actually securing any formal title to it.

Just like they never told you about declaring you legally dead and seizing upon your good name and estate, they conveniently don't tell you about naming you as the co-signer of their loans and using your name and estate as the collateral backing their debts.

So what happens when they overspend and exhaust your credit line and use up all the value of your assets?

They go bankrupt, and then their creditors come looking for you.

After all, your Good Name and estate are the collateral as co-signer, so their creditors believe that your assets must be forfeit to pay all these debts the rats have run up in your name.

It's a government-run identity theft racket, really no different than having your credit card stolen by a hacker.

What we've just described for you --- the hypothecation of debt against your names and assets, the bankruptcy of the perpetrators, and the onslaught by their creditors --- is what is going on right now.

The various commercial corporations providing all these "governmental services" that they order up for you and then coerce you to pay for, have gone bankrupt by treaty, just as they did in May of 1930.

The banks are left holding the bag right along with you, and even though they are in truth and in fact the Secondary Creditors, and even though they know this is all fraud and hokum, they are determined to make you pay for the sins of your "service providers".

So the guilty government corporations give the guilty banks free rein to hire mercenaries under color of law --- all these for-hire "government agencies" -- to evict you from your homes and to steal your bank accounts and do whatever other harm to you and yours that they feel is sufficient.

If the protests get "rocky" they plan to send in the military to back up the agency personnel. And mind you, all this is bought and paid for by you and staffed by your sons and daughters.

However, they were not content with ripping off all the people in their own country and in all the other countries they could pillage, plunder, and rape. They even cheated and defrauded their own military and our military and the Canadian military and the Australian military and all the NATO allied militaries, too.

They-- your government--- owes trillions of dollars to the American Officers Corps and General Enlisted. We don't have figures yet for anyone else, but you can bet that truly astronomical sums are owed to your own veterans, too.

Here's just an example of it --- stock and investment portfolios owed to all our WWII veterans were deliberately kept and managed "for" them, but they were never told a word about this cozy arrangement, nor the existence of these stock and investment portfolios. So, as they died, the stocks and investment income from all that was seized upon by the government as "abandoned funds" and counted as "gift income".

That's how your government has treated its soldiers, sailors, marines, allies ---- and you.

And this is how your Queen claims to own the land titles to a third of the habitable Earth and how she and her "royal" brood happen to be the richest family on Earth --- by fraud, usurpation, identity theft, impersonation, breach of trust, unlawful conversion, inland piracy, extortion under color of law, human trafficking, enslavement, press-ganging and other heinous crimes committed against their own people and everyone else they can victimize.

It's possible, but not at all likely, that Elizabeth II managed to live her whole life in a bubble and never know a thing about how her kingdom has been built, but it is surely necessary to bring it to her attention now.

We have absolute proof and proof of collusion by the Holy See and Westminster, too, all in violation of treaties and commercial contracts, and all executed via identity theft and bunco-style racketeering.

So the unpaid and cheated military certainly has to reason to support any of this, and the bankers and the politicians need to be exposed and excoriated, and we all need to step up and do our share to Clean Up This Mess.

The people of the British Isles are all hearty breeds. They've survived the onslaughts of many great powers. They endured the Romans. They survived the Normans. They squeaked by the Nazis. A whole generation perished in the First World War and another was badly decimated in the Second. The British military can carry its head high, and so can their Secret Service. They've done their jobs all too well.

That said, the rest of your government absolutely sucks wind, from your Queen who violated her Coronation Oath within three days of taking it, to Prince Philip who wishes to be a deadly virus or bacteria in his afterlife, so he can wipe out millions of innocent people, to the Lords of the Admiralty who are more like the Scum of the Earth, to the Lords of Parliament who have embraced "eternal war" --- on your tickets, to the House of Commons, that has drudged along and supported all this criminality for 150 years and more.

While we are on this topic, we need to observe that when they "sponsor a war"---that's the insider politically correct verbiage for staging False Flags and creating other reasons for conflicts that otherwise wouldn't exist--- these monsters make a lot of profit via means you might not expect.

For starters, they insure everyone up the wazoo. They take out million dollar life insurance policies on the least of us and multi-million dollar policies on university graduates, and only God knows how much on each senior officer and general, so that when we die in wars or as a result of wars these perpetrators start, they are richly rewarded.

Then, they profit from selling arms and providing financing to both sides.

Then, they profit from not having to pay their debts to all those who die.

Then, they profit again by seizing upon all the assets that belonged to the people killed in their wars for profit --- a second time --- by claiming all the other hidden assets attached to their names and estates (like the stock portfolios owed to veterans and their military pensions and social insurance accounts).

Then, they send out war privateers (attorneys and bankers) and legitimize them to steal everyone else's shipping and cargo, which brings more and more countries into the war they are sponsoring.

Then, they charge the survivors for the costs of all this horror and for the cost of rebuilding everything and of course, a hefty sum for their "services" in this regard.

Last but not least, they even scavenge the battlefields for gold teeth and "viable organs". These last are labeled "donated" and sold, so that the families of the men and women who died defending these bastards don't even get the financial benefit of the sale of their loved one's body parts.

Are you sick of this mistreatment of everyone and everything? This gross criminal mismanagement of you and everyone else?

Are you wondering why Muslims have been allowed to invade your country without a shot being fired, and why all the other Muslim countries are not providing homes for all these refugees?

Face it, most of these people hate being in England, Ireland, and Scotland as much as you hate having them there, so what is it really all about?

Consider who is promoting this --- the same government responsible for all the horrors described above? It can only be interpreted in terms of their track record in the Middle East, where they forced a displaced Jewish population into the heart of Arab territory and counted on it doing precisely what they wanted to accomplish --- "eternal war".

After a generation or two, all the Muslim Refugees will be "English" and they will think of England as "home"--- having known no other. This will create a permanent divide between the native people of the British Isles and the Muslim Immigrant population -- a divide of race, religion, and world view that can only result in the same kind of "eternal war" these vermin have spawned in the Middle East.

Well, we say--- they want "eternal war"?

Let's give it to them on their front lawns and on their golf courses and at their tea parties and cricket matches. Let's give them no support at all. Let's give them the "benefit" of our opinions and our tongue lashings and boycotts and ever-increasing awareness of their perfidy, incompetence, and gross moral turpitude.

Let's tell the agencies and the military the truth about what these scumbags have done and are attempting to do, and arouse the moral conscience of the military leaders and the Secret Service. After all, they've been cheated and misused along with all the rest of us. Let's rouse up the rest of the world that stands to suffer if this insanity is allowed to continue on.

We know who they are. We know where they live. We know who their bankers are. We know who their judges are. We know their wives and grandkids. We even know what brand of toilet paper they use. We can make ourselves heard and felt.

Instead of fighting each other or pummeling some other poor schmuck whose greatest sin is being different than we are in some way, let's get to the root -- the actual root -- of the problem, which is Evil in High Places and criminality in government.

With enough eyes in enough places and enough hands to the wheel and enough people determined not to be sheep led to slaughter anymore, we can change the world-- and we can certainly change who is running it and the way it is being run. We can end our purportedly "voluntary" servitude to these monsters and put an end to their war-mongering and enslavement schemes.

When they "sponsor a war" we can all decide not to come, and if they "sponsor a war" we can all locate with pinpoint accuracy the actual source of the problem.

We can clean out the quasi-military courts that have been established as enforcement rackets.

We can clean out and re-educate the police detachments and agencies.

We can clean out the banks once and for all, just as they did in Iceland.

In behalf of ourselves and the rest of the world, we love you, but we've all been muttonheads for far too long. It's time for this garbage to stop. Let's join hands and hearts and put a stop to it.
