

Rumors About A Congress in Philly-----

By Anna Von Reitz

In order for ANY valid Continental Congress to occur a number of steps must be taken.

First, the individual people have to wake up and correct their political status records and actively choose and assert their birthright as state nationals---and put it on the public land jurisdiction record.

Second, they must get together with others who have "returned" and hold organizational meetings and public elections to set up their county and state jural assemblies. These are the bodies that give rise to our American Common Law land jurisdiction courts. Jural societies give rise to the international sea jurisdiction courts and admiralty courts-- so it is important that people know the difference between "jural assemblies" and "jural societies". The assemblies are the missing piece that has to be restored at the county and state levels.

Once these body politics are properly formed by eligible electors they can, as a statewide assembly, elect both Continental Congress members and Senators.

The Senators act as Fiduciaries responsible and accountable to the state-level assemblies and if they fail to meet the Prudent Man Standard they can be summarily removed and prosecuted for any dishonesty or Bad Faith in office.

Now-- I think we all know what I have outlined requires a lot of work and organization and learning process and paperwork that has not had a chance to go on yet, and that most people are still in the dark.

As a result it is my confirmed opinion that anything going on in Pennsylvania is at most a meeting of concerned Americans acting as a Security Committee and not as a "Congress" of any kind, because the learning, doing, organizing, recording, and electing takes time.
