

Deliberate Confusion Between Fact and Fiction

By Anna Von Reitz

People have been plaguing me this week with questions about the name game and the current status of the NAME game. Here is an update provided by a friend in Britain and his kindly comments on the subject.

I will only add that none of these incorporated entities have anything to do with the actual country or the Federation of States dba The United States of America --- and they are all infringing upon our Common Law Copyright and in violation of international law and treaty.

Put these references in a file on your computers and/or create a hard copy for your files, too, so that you have the information straight from the English side of it.

Do not mistake these facts as any proof of any actual ownership interest in our assets by England. These facts merely bear witness to piracy by English corporations and Breach of Trust by the British Government.

And next time someone asks you who or what THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA (LTD.) is, you will have the answer at your fingertips, ready to "prove" the issue to any Doubters left on the planet.
