What is SO Difficult About This Concept, Tim?

You can't build a brick house out of straw. (United States Citizens).

You can't build a brick house out of sticks. (Citizens of the United States).

You can't build a brick house with anything but bricks. (American State Citizens).

US Citizens of either kind cannot be members of our State Assemblies, because they are working for and owe allegiances to foreign governments --- Britain and the Holy Roman Empire, respectively.

Period.

Nothing that you or your fake "assembly" does will have any standing or validity at all. Ever.
