Seen from that perspective you can see why Congress acted as it did. From their perspective the land was at peace and in control of whatever the sea did or did not do, as the sea jurisdiction operated by the Federal United States has always been just a delegation of 19 enumerated functions to be done in behalf of the States. They don't even have all of the powers on the Sea--- just some of the sea jurisdiction has been delegated. And if the States want to get together and amend the deal to give the Federal entity more or less power, they can convene a Continental Congress and do so.

The problem is that in a sense, we have forgotten who we are and what our powers are and what powers we delegated to them and how we can also take back any power delegated to them.

They are in effect just serving us with "essential governmental services"-- but like runaway housemaids they have been defining what those services are and how much they are going to charge for them and how they are going to "represent" us, etc.

Just imagine that the servants have taken over a grand estate, pretended that the lawful heirs are "missing", and wrecked all sorts of destruction, run the Master's credit cards up to the hilt, failed to do basic maintenance, charged a hundred times more than reasonable for basic services and worst of all, enslaved and made the actual heirs miserable.

That is the situation we have here. The government of Britain is responsible, has acted in Breach of Trust, and deserves to go down in flames for it. They might have pleaded "wartime necessity" during WWII, but at no time since then has there been any rational excuse for any of this abuse of the rest of us and the violation of our contracts.

This has all only been possible because the American People trusted the British Monarch to perform their duty as their Trustee on the High Seas and Navigable Inland Waterways. It is now clear that that trust was tragically misplaced and that the British Monarch has instead attacked and victimized the trusting Americans and has behaved in the severest kind of Dishonor imaginable to us, to the Canadians, Australians, and other Allies of the WWII Era.

The blame for the current situation lies squarely on the British Monarch, the Lords of the Admiralty, FDR, and the Members of Congress.

As the Federal United States is a separate nation with respect to the Continental United States, this egregious betrayal is a matter of international law and treaty violation. All member nations of the former British Empire have been similarly abused and defrauded as well as many other countries worldwide.

For the Americans, Canadians, and Aussies it is summed up as blatant fiduciary trust fraud.

Please post this under a heading -- Britain Guilty of Fiduciary Trust Fraud Against Americans, Canadians, and Aussies-- because that is the major portion of what has gone on since WWII.

They have enslaved us and their own people on the British Isles proper and have attempted as much as possible to enslave other nations, too, for no very apparent purpose other than to accrue ill-gotten gold and silver reserves for the Queen and numerous Royal Slush Funds.

The aim appears to have been to steal all the gold and silver of other nations in order to later sell it all back to them at vastly inflated prices.

In the Americans case the stooges in "Congress" set up a fixed exchange rate between "Federal Reserve Notes"-- private I.O.U's-- and actual United States Dollars defined as an ounce of pure silver. They thus "exchanged" their worthless promises to pay for our actual silver and gold, then claimed bankruptcy and discharged the entire debt they owed to the American People for this outrage.

I haven't inquired but it is virtually certain that they did the same to Canada and Australia and as many other nations as possible.

This leaves the perpetrators in possession of vast amounts of precious metals which are now grossly overvalued in comparison with all the fiat currencies.

Consider that gold traded at about $30 USD per ounce in the 1930's and now trades for around $1300 per ounce and you can see that the rats hope to realize an over 4000% profit from their crimes against the innocent people who trusted them to act as their Trustees on the High Seas and Inland Waterways and that they have pretended to excuse this vile behavior by purposefully entrapping and mischaracterizing the political status of their victims--- attacking us while still babies in our cradles and falsifying public records without our knowledge or consent so as to give themselves an excuse for their criminality.

Well, it isn't going to work.

You and I and all the others who have been mistreated and lied to and lied about by these monsters now completely understand their motives and their methods and their time on Earth is at an end.

Having been recognized for what they are and having their methods recognized for what they are makes it impossible for them to continue or to profit from their schemes.

They have virtually every nation on this planet arrayed against them, including the people of the Continental United States.

Both the Queen and Jacob Rothschild are revealed to be nothing more than criminals. Their fortunes must be forfeit to the people they have been stolen from and the gold standard-- or any standard based on one or a few commodities-- must ultimately be rejected.

I repeat-- does it make any sense to use a single commodity -- the supply of which is controlled by evil men-- the standard of value against which all other commodities including human labor are measured?

Doesn't it make more sense to admit the truth that the only sources of value on Earth are labor and natural resources and to use ALL these sources of value as collateral backing a single universal currency?

This immediately foils all attempts by the criminals to control and manipulate the world economy, to profit themselves via their theft of gold and fraudulent claims against their victims, and leave themselves in control of all the rest of us.

Time to cut the shackles of gold, of verminous Queens, of incompetent Popes, and dishonest "Trustees" and also time to deal with employees run amok.
