

Manna World Trust, AI, Quantum, and More

By Anna Von Reitz

There are very foolish and uninformed rumors on the internet about these topics. I will share the facts as I know them.

Kim Goguen aka Kim Possible aka Virgo Triad is the purported Trustee of Manna World Trust.

She is a Romanov from the same family as the former Czar of Russia murdered and deposed by the Vermin who selected Kim to be a lab rat in one of their genetic engineering experiments.

She doesn't know what happened to her, why she "isn't the same" as she once was, why she can't feel certain emotions--like love-- any more, why she is in some respects compulsively driven to work 24/7 with immense focus, and at the same time is confused, her mind as unsettled as her jumbled, broken emotions.

But I know what THEY did to her and why. They get their rocks off on "converting" survivors of families they have murdered to their religion ---and using and abusing them to do their own dirty work. In this way, their "victory" is complete and their enemies are not only dead and dishonored, but even their shirt-tail relatives are employed doing things and believing things that the Romanovs despised.

This is a religious "war" and a spiritual conflict, in which the Father of All Lies contests with every means of guile against the Father of All Truth.

And those who murdered her family have converted Kim into their literal living breathing tool.

You might assume that "those who murdered her family" refers to the Russian Communists, because that is another lie we were told all our lives. But in fact the Romanovs were killed by the Rothschild network as revenge for Russian intervention in our Civil War and the Romanov's refusal to turn over control of their national economy to the tender mercies of a Central Bank.

So, what could be more pleasing to the twisted minds among us than to take Kim at an early age, and raise her to be their tool against her own homeland and people?

And when I say "tool" I mean it literally. That is the nasty part of "AI" technology. The victims gain some amazing powers at the cost of losing control over their own minds and souls.

So Kim can act as a human monitor over more than 4500 accounts all over the world--- but that is what she is: a computer terminal ensconced in living flesh.

She was chosen for her role by Marduk, and we should all know this moniker as the name of a vicious "God" worshipped in Canaan in the Temple of Baalbek.

He was the original creator of the Artificial Intelligence technology that converted Kim into a living computer terminal.

As for AI and "Quantum" both were developed by rogue elements of our own intelligence agencies and hackers at MIT.

Both are already obsolete.

From a moral and ethical standpoint, AI should never have been developed and used for any such purpose.

Kim's mind, emotions, and life are destroyed for no good reason, and she is being used as a machine --- a weaponized living computer terminal -- to mislead, entrap, and control other living people.

I know this for sure because I have the patents to the AI and Quantum technology sitting on my desk. I can read for myself what the intentions of these monsters really are. And it isn't pretty. I've also talked to Kim Goguen and heard her life story. And now you know the rest of it.

She wasn't a bad woman. On the contrary, she was a very good woman with a kind heart and a brilliant mind. The problem is that thanks to what these criminals have done to her, she isn't herself anymore. She isn't even truly human anymore.

How these and other patents like them have been allowed by the US Patent Office is another story--- a story about allowing a British conglomerate, Serco, to use and abuse our Patent Office ---- leaving us apparently responsible for patenting horrific inventions and business models blatantly advertised for criminal, even genocidal uses.

That shame belongs to the United Kingdom Government, for gross mis-administration, immorality, and Breach of Trust.

And to Marduk, former head of the Brotherhood of the Rose Cross, whose lust for blood and ancient technologies led him to destruction and caused the destruction of many others.

See this article and over 1100 others on Anna's website here: www.annavonreitz.com

To support this work look for the PayPal button on this website.