

Horribly Misrepresented

By Anna Von Reitz

All information seeming to suggest that I am or ever was an "Agent of the Vatican" comes directly from me, so there is no effort to hide anything I have ever done, nor is there any mystery concerning why I have done what I have done. This particular example that Arnie Rosner is waving around comes from my book, Disclosure 101.

In October 2007, I brought our objections and research directly to the Pope, Benedict XVI.

Why? Because he (and his Successors) are in charge of the Civil Government in this country (not civilian, civil) and as anyone can observe now--- thanks largely to me--- both the Territorial and Municipal (Civil) Governments are functioning in gross Breach of Trust.

It does no good in a compartmentalized hierarchy to attack low level employees; they can do nothing to change anything.

So realizing that the problem with our civil government administration at the federal level was within the Pontificate and its administration, I went straight to the top, because lower authorities would only defer to the Pope.

He heard me out. He was stunned. His answer was, and I quote, "Nobody told me!"

So the Office of Evil was such that even the purported head of the organization wasn't told what was going on.

I was in the midst of giving Notice to his employees and cohorts in the Church concerning the Great Fraud. Benedict asked me to add his authority to that Notice process, as the ultimate employer of the civil (municipal) government.

He asked me to do this for him so that the weight of his office would tell the employees to reform and not just ignore the Notice.

This was an unpaid mission that I was engaged in anyway and his reasoning made sense, so that is what we did.

That Notice process took seven (7) years between October 2007 and April of 2014. In that time period, about 10,000 pieces of mail went out of my home office at my own expense, informing members of the Municipal Governments worldwide, and the Territorial Governments, too.

When Benedict XVI left office in 2013, I had a few months left to do. Francis did not end the Notice process, nor change the arrangement, so it continued on to its logical end in 2014.

The Final Judgment was issued in April 2014 and is published in my book, Disclosure 101.

A great deal of work has gone into giving every Territorial and Municipal organization on Earth a shot at doing the right thing, or at least not doing the wrong thing.

All these Notices went out via "Notice to Agent is Notice to Principal; Notice to Principal is Notice to Agent", so we may assume that far more than 10,000 people worldwide were made aware of the Breach of Trust and criminal mismanagement ongoing in this country and many other countries around the world.

So far as this work was concerned, the Church Officials did what you would expect Church Officials to do. They took steps to correct and then they battened down the hatches and have done what they could to protect the Church. The Office of Pontiff was dissolved and ended in 2011, along with the underlying Trust, the Romanus Pontifex.

I don't know how other people view the current state of the world, but to me it is clear that the Apocalypse --- the Great Revealing --- has come and much of the dirty linen of the Roman Catholic Church has been prominently on display, including this vast exposure of wrong-doing by the Municipal Governments that are supposed to be operated "lawfully" --- not legally.

The Municipal United States Government which administered the civil government here has always been under the ultimate control of the Pontificate and has now, since 2011, been passed on directly to the Holy Roman Empire.

This situation was not the original structure of our government.

That is, the Municipal United States oligarchy run by members of the Territorial Congress, was never meant to run our civil government.

That duty was supposed to be performed by the States of America organization that was destroyed and never reconstructed after the Civil War. The ensuing "emergency" and the rationale that "someone had to do it" while the "government [Federal branch of the Federal Government] was in "abeyance" led to these abuses.

But in point of fact, the entire circumstance didn't affect our actual government at all, as both the States and the People remained after the Civil War, and all this corruption was based on deliberate misrepresentation and self-interested constructive fraud.

In any event, as my Letter to Cardinal George of Chicago (published on my website) makes clear, the tenor of my communications and Notices throughout this seven year period were high informative and critical of the Municipal Government and the Church's failure to do right by the States and People of this country and cannot in any way be taken as "pro status quo" or "working for the Pope" in continuance of their bad behavior.

My role for those seven years was to give them Due Process ---and that I surely did. Any misrepresentation of me being "in league" with those forces in the Vatican that were promoting these crimes against Humanity needs to be squelched with prejudice. I was already the driving spearpoint demanding reform and restitution from the Pope(s) when Arnie Rosner was sitting around on his duff watching re-runs of Bonanza.
