

More Blind Staggers.....

By Anna Von Reitz

Today, I get a message from a reader asking about this:

Yes, yet more "Blind Staggers" from people who are half-asleep and unaware of the past and unable, therefore, to deal with the present or chart the future.

Here's my reply to this latest bit of nonsense from "reign of heaven" and Keith Livingway and his Band of Merry Men:

We have been at peace since 1865 and we already have three Presidential Declarations of Peace guaranteeing our peace.

The problem has been renegade employees failing to "recognize" us and failing to do their duty, and instead seeking to line their own pockets and trying to rob us of our birthrights ---both material and immaterial birthrights.

We own the copyright to the name "The United States of America" --- unincorporated version -- under the 1790 Copyright Act.

Anyone who doesn't know this already and who is suing President Trump for "peace" at this late date obviously doesn't have a clue and needs to be cut short with all their claims and actions.

I have said it before and I say it again --- Keith Livingway is basing all his claims on false assumptions and information. He is acting as a pirate stealing from other pirates who came before him and trying to make that into a valid claim to own our country.

It's complete utter whackjob insanity and against the actual law on every continent. The Maxim of Law is--- "Possession of property by pirates does not change ownership."

The name "The United States of America" as it applies to any entity public or private, incorporated or unincorporated, belongs to us and has belonged to us since September 9, 1776 and no amount of commercial fraud, infringement, or deceit can change that.

Run like an antelope away from anything to do with Keith Livingway and his groupees. They may or may not have good intentions, but they don't know the history and don't have a leg to stand on either lawfully or legally.

And given the crazy things they have alleged and done in the past, and the fact that they are trying to "out-pirate pirates" it is not beyond the realm of possible that they will get themselves and their followers in real trouble.

Piracy done in ignorance is still piracy, after all, and infringement against the copyright of a sovereign government is infringement of a very, very serious kind. If you can get a $250,000 fine for copying a movie, imagine what can happen when you infringe on the copyrighted name of a sovereign nation?

Red flag, folks. And yes, these are the same numbnutz play actors who issued a "warrant" for my arrest and made up all sorts of bogus claims about me. This should indicate again how irresponsible and basically out of touch they are.

Anyone who wants to know about the three (3) Presidential Declarations of Peace with respect to the land and soil jurisdiction States and the People of this country, they are fully detailed with dates and references in our book, "You Know Something is Wrong When.....an American Affidavit of Probable Cause" ---- along with a lot of other useful information.

When I was in college there were a lot of weird religious cults making the rounds. Remember Reverend Moon? And Eckankar? And the Church of Slack? Without an exception, the kids who were susceptible to this nonsense were the ones who didn't know their own scriptures or didn't know anything (or bother to find out) about the scriptures of others.

It's the same thing with this situation now.

We have all these gurus who know part of the story, like Hartford Van Dyke, who knows all about Federal Code, and we have all those with "deeply held beliefs" ---- like Keith Livingway---- who are simply ignorant of law and history and wrong.

These people who have only part of the story or only their own "beliefs" to go on, are dangerous no matter what their intentions are, because they mislead others and get people to do things that are in fact harmful.

This whole situation is outrageous enough all on its own. We don't need to embellish it with any fantasy claims like Keith or add to the confusion by focusing on foreign governments and their affairs. And we don't need any more good people going to jail because they followed Pied Pipers.

Nobody who has followed my advice has gotten in trouble because of it.

The Colorado Nine trespassed against the Federales in spite of my most earnest appeals and efforts to warn them.

Destry Payne talked to me for months and had every opportunity to do his paperwork --- and didn't.

People --- even my friends --- make wrong choices, don't do their homework, get confused, and suffer when they follow bad leaders. It doesn't matter if the Pied Piper is a Federal Agent or an ignorant Patriot. Either one is just as bad, and just as much to be avoided.
