

Not Overtaken, Reborn

By Anna Von Reitz

I haven't had an opportunity to review this lengthy psyops report in depth, but it appears to be based on the assumption that because the names have changed and some international forces and new weapons are present, the America we love and know is being lost and overtaken. In fact, what is being stripped away are the false names and presumptions that were the result of the Great Fraud and illegal occupation beginning in 1861.

The actual country that we living American people are owed is being returned and the States of America are receiving back all the assets and credit that has been embezzled. Remember that the original constitution is called "The Constitution for the united States of America"----- the name of this country as it pertains to the delegated authority in international jurisdiction was always "States of America". The "united" was an adjective used to describe "States of America".

This whole situation has become overly complex over time and the lawyers have had a field day confusing everyone and making false claims and practicing personage and barratry. They've had a really sweet racketeering operation on our shores and they've done it in such a clever way that at the end of the day, they can even attempt to blame it on us and say that they did it all in our best interests.

I am blowing past all that, as if it doesn't exist, and going to the meat of the matter. We want our land, we want our homes, we want our money, we want our identities, our copyrights, our trademarks, our patents--- all of it returned. We want clean, clear, easy means to correct our political status, obtain proper passports, and convert all these "public trusts" back into private bank accounts. We want remedy on the land, full cure and maintenance on the sea, and redemption in the jurisdiction of the air.

To do that requires going back to the actual names of things as they were 150 years ago and doing justice to the dead. Think of all the people who lived and died as slaves since 1861, thinking that they were free men? Deluded, fooled, defrauded, embezzled, conned by these criminals?

It's not just a matter of what is due to us, it's what was due to our great-great-grandparents, too.

There was a plan to kill the Priority Creditors of the con artists, just as they did in Nazi Germany. We blew that to smithereens in 2014. There was a plan to declare our Republics "dead", no longer having "international representation" and no longer having a sufficient currency in international circulation. We blew that sky-high in 2015. At every turn, as the con artists have tried to undermine us, tried to deny our claims, tried to gain the legal edge---- they have been defeated.

And not just defeated. Squashed flat. Exposed. Like roaches.

There was an attempt by HRM Elizabeth II to claim that she was the Head of State of the United States of America. Wrong. The actual Head of State stepped forward. There was an attempt by FRANCE, that is, Jacob Rothschild, to establish a contract by assumption and succession. We said, thanks, but no thanks. In public. Repeatedly.

What needs to happen in America and in every other country around the world is a full and honest housecleaning and education of the public so as to enable every man and woman to make decisions---- a sort of planetary Town Hall meeting --- where each one except those who really, truly are disabled and unable to act in their own behalf --- gets to exercise their free will and have access to their own credit without middlemen.

Anyone who is not in a coma, anyone who is say, sixteen or older, anyone who is mentally competent --- should be truthfully told about the issues and choices, and then allowed to choose for themselves.

Those who are with me believe that when a man or woman is given all the facts, all the pros and cons, the vast majority will choose what is right and good for themselves and for their country and for all mankind. Take away the lies and fears and tell the truth and at the end of the day---- we are grown up enough and rational enough to choose what is good.

I have often told the story of being lost in a blizzard in the back country of Alaska and seeing a tiny little Quonset hut in the distance, struggling my way to the door, and being welcomed by a very elderly Eskimo living very simple life on the very edge of nowhere. When it comes push to shove, when we become aware of how small we are, when we start discerning the real miracles of life--- then all of a sudden the world drops away and what is real and precious becomes painfully apparent.

Nobody has to tell us what is true or what is good. We all already know.

It's right there in front of us. It's been there all the time. And when we remember who and what we are, it's so easy to be grateful and to choose life and to share, because we finally realize that we are worthy and we are loved and we are blessed and we are immersed in riches beyond compare in great abundance, with more than enough for our needs and wants and wishes, more than enough for every man to have his home in peace.

The dark night of the Doctrine of Scarcity and the rule of Satan is finally ending. The Thousand Years of Peace has been declared, and those who are guilty are scattering and stumbling, afraid of what this means and what will be done to them. It is the Will of our Father, that not one will be lost. Not a single goat, not a single sheep. All will be redeemed. All will be cared for. All will be taught. All will be cherished. And though their sins are as scarlet, they shall be washed white as wool. Those who are ruining the Earth will be stopped and a new Paradise will be born and it is happening right now.

The plans of the Enemy are all torn and run amok. The power of money is nothing compared to the power of Nature and love. Rejoice. Have faith. You may feel angry about what has been revealed. You may be afraid. Other people may be rushing around in a panic. Some may try to delude you again. There's ten pounds of ignorance for every pound of knowledge on the street right now. But what I am telling you is true, and what all the naysayers and fear-mongers are telling you, is not.

And as we should all know by now, when what is true comes, what is false must pass away.

See this article and over 500 others on Anna's website here:www.annavonreitz.com
To support this work look for the PayPal button on this website.